MANASSAS ZONING PLAN IN FORMATION

County commissioners at Manassas, Va., are setting up zoning regulations to put that area in compliance with congressional requirements, members of the Gettysburg Civil War Round Table discovered on their visit to the site of the Battles of Bull Run on Thursday.

Ten members made the trip and learned from the park superintendent at Manassas that no information has been received there as to how the federal funds for land acquisition will be divided between Gettysburg and Manassas.

Superintendent Francis Wilshin told the Gettysburg visitors that efforts are to be made there to secure rights-of-way so that segments of the scattered 2,200 acres of federal land can be linked by avenues.

Going Back In July

Much of the land in the Manassas area is now in private hands, the Gettysburg Civil War students found. In a total battle area of about 4,000 acres, the 2,200 acres of park land are scattered.

After the Manassas Battlefield inspection, the Round Table members went to Leesburg, Va., to dine at the Laurel Brigade Inn and conduct their June meeting with Vice President William Shoemaker presiding. He announced that the local Howitzer company will take part in the Pickett's Charge re-enactment here on July 5 in addition to the North-South Skirmish members and the Sons of Veterans.

Plans were made to return July 23 to the Laurel Brigade Inn for a meeting and a tour of the Ball's Bluff Battlefield nearby.

Thrush Is Named To Young GOP Position

The appointment of Atty. John D. Thrush as district administrator, District III, Young Republicans of Pennsylvania, was announced today by State Chairman Thomas H. McIntosh.

In his new position, Thrush will supervise and coordinate Young Republican activities in Adams, Cumberland, Franklin, Fulton, Huntingdon and Perry counties. He will report to Arthur Sampson Jr., districts director for the Pennsylvania YRs.

Attorney Thrush has been active in Young Republican and senior Republican activity since 1953. He was an organizer and currently serves as president of the Adams County Young Republican Club. A member of the Adams County Republican Committee, he was recently nominated for town council.

HORSE SHOW ON SATURDAY

The South Mountain Rangers' Riding Club will hold its fifth annual horse show Saturday evening starting at 6 o'clock at the South Mountain Fairgrounds. Twenty classes are listed with trophies and ribbons to be awarded, President Calvin Manahan said.

John Schroll, Orrtanna, will be ring master and the judges will be "Bud" Stiteley and Mrs. Ruth Eyler, Thurmont. All entries will be post entries with classes for horses and ponies, Western horses, walkers, jumpers and five-gaited horses. No harness classes are listed. The entry fee will be $1 for each class in the show.

The sponsoring club belongs to the Pennsylvania-Maryland Show Association.

There will be a 50-cent charge for adult spectators. Children under 12 will be admitted free.

Officers of the sponsoring club in addition to the president are Harold Ditzler, vice president; Betty Lou Kuykendall, secretary, and Roy Kuykendall, treasurer.

Robert Peters Heads Little Theater Group

Robert Peters, Bendersville, was recently elected president of Potomac Players, a Hagerstown little theater organization. He is the first male president in the 34 year history of the organization.

Peters, an employee of the aircraft and missile division of Fairchild Engine and Airplane Corp., Hagerstown, has served as stage manager of the group for many years. He will serve for a two-year period.

Before joining the Hagerstown group, Peters was active in little theater work with Owl and Nightingale at Gettysburg College, in Bendersville, and Chambersburg.

CHAMBERLAIN, VET FLYERS TO VISIT HERE

More than 80 aviation pioneers, including Clarence Chamberlain, one of the first men to fly the Atlantic, and Miss Blanche Noyes, first woman cross-country flyer, are expected here Saturday for the spring meeting of the OX-5 Club, world-wide organization of flyers, some of whom flew as early as 1916 and are still flying.

Chamberlain is expected to arrive at the Doersom Airport at noon. He will be speaker for the club's banquet at 7 p.m. at the Hotel Gettysburg. He plans to bring with him several reels of film taken of aircraft between 1922 and 1926, including films of his trip with Adm. Richard E. Byrd when the two flew non-stop from New York to Germany in 1927.

A mass flight of old planes is planned with the group leaving Belleville, near Lewistown, Saturday morning. With this group will be Sam Burke, Mifflin County pioneer in nearly everything that rolled or flew. He owned a motorcycle in 1905, became interested in automobiles which he later raced, operated a garage which he sold to become a flyer with the Army during World War I. The Army put him in transportation instead, so Sam had to wait 10 years to realize his dream.

Gettysburg has been immortalized as the scene of one of history's great tragic battles in which Americans who should have tramped the fields with arms linked in comradeship fought one another in the pursuit of clashing ideas with a desperate ferocity that made this one of the bloodiest battles in history.

Today, within the area over which Union and Confederate troops stormed almost 100 years ago, all Gettysburg marks the dedication of a memorial to the decency and dignity of the human being, his hatred of suffering and pain, his efforts in behalf of his fellows . . . the dedication of the new south wing of the Annie M. Warner Hospital.

It is a strange irony that this hospital built on a battlefield was conceived in the throes of misfortunes that arose from another conflict. For Warner Hospital had its ginnings during the influenza epidemic of 1918, when John Warner disturbed by the ravages of the disease which was sweeping through Camp Colt, then commanded by Lt. Col. Dwight D. Eisenhower, now our distinguished neighbor and President, launched the drive to build adequate medical facilities for Gettysburg and its environs.

Despite its constant association with bloodshed, Gettysburg has been marked, too, with herculean efforts of mercy from the time when the college and the churches were turned into emergency medical centers during the Civil War through the use of Xavier Hall as a hospital center in World War I to the building and constant improvement of Warner Hospital.

While no tourists are awed by the graceful lines of Warner Hospital, it has greater meaning for all of us than any of the imposing statuary that memorializes the sacred dead. For Warner Hospital is a memorial to man's constant struggle to preserve life . . . the life of the infant and the aged, rich and poor, men of all creeds and races. There is here the great anonymity of the battlefield where all men are equal.

It is fitting that today marks a turn in the history of Warner Hospital. Its early growth was the result primarily of individual philanthropy by men such as John Warner and Christian H. Musselman. Ike And Elizabeth Formally Open St. Lawrence Seaway; Praise U.S.-Canada Record

By RELMAN MORIN

MONTREAL (AP) — President Eisenhower, at ceremonies formally opening the St. Lawrence Seaway today, called the new water route "a magnificent symbol to the entire world of the achievements possible to Democratic nations peacefully working together for the common good."

The President joined Queen Elizabeth II here for a five-hour cruise through 31 miles of the seaway west of the royal yacht Britannia.

In her speech the Queen emphasized that the seaway is a product of the joint efforts of the United States and Canada, a "monument to the enduring friendship of our two nations."

Prepared Texts

Both the Queen and the President spoke from brief prepared texts.

Man Suicides After Wife Is Trampled To Death By Horses In Academy Stable

YORK, Pa. (AP) — The youthful husband of a 22-year-old York woman who was trampled to death Thursday night by horses on her parents' farm was found dead at the farm near here today.

Dr. Thomas Hart, York County coroner, said Edgar Allen Hinkle, 20, was fatally wounded with a 25 gauge pump gun in the bedroom the couple had shared at her parents' home.

Hart issued a verdict of suicide after an investigation.

The wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Heindel, operate a riding academy at their rural home.

Dr. Walter Hill, deputy York County coroner, said the wife, Evelyn, died of a fractured skull.

The couple did not have any children and officials did not explain why the baby crib was in the room.

Miss Dolley is a niece of Henry Eaton, also a former Gettysburg resident.

SAY PROPOSED CHANGES ARE BEING IGNORED

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Two officials who helped map proposed changes in Pennsylvania's constitution contend the State Legislature is ignoring many of the recommendations.

Expressing their views in a panel discussion Wednesday at the summer session of the Pennsylvania Bar Assn. were Judge Robert E. Woodside of State Superior Court and Genevieve Blatt, state secretary of internal affairs. Also on the panel was Jefferson B. Fordham, dean of the University of Pennsylvania Law School.

All three served on the 15-member Pennsylvania Commission on Constitutional Revision which was set up by the General Assembly in 1957 to study the constitution and recommend changes.

Cite Two Examples

The commission recommended that the present minimum voting age of 21 be retained and that governors be limited to serving two successive terms. Pennsylvania governors can not succeed themselves under the present constitution.

The panelists said moves are under way in the General Assembly to reduce the minimum voting age to 18 and to give governors the right to succeed themselves indefinitely.

The association, which ended its meeting Thursday, paid tribute to Judge William E. Hirt of State Superior Court.

Concerned On Dissenters

Hirt, who plans to retire soon, said in a dinner speech Wednesday that he is concerned about the ever-increasing number of dissenting opinions handed down in appellate courts.

"I have long been of the opinion that the cumulative value of dissenting opinions is more than nullified by the loss in prestige which our appellate courts suffer in public opinion, and especially in the opinion of the man in the street," the judge said.

The State Bar Association gave unanimous endorsement to a Senate bill which would revise procedure for the minor judiciary in the state with justices of the peace and alderman to be put on a salary instead of depending upon fees as they do at present. The bill, he bar pointed out, is intended to improve the administration of justice in the minor courts of the state.

Duffy-Mott Makes Two Juice Drinks

Two new blended fruit juice drinks, products of Duffy-Mott Company, Inc., and driven in part from Pennsylvania apples, are winning national acceptance at a rate far exceeding original company estimates. Both drinks are being produced in the company's plant at Aspers.

Called "AM" and "PM," the companion drinks were introduced to the metropolitan New York market in April and quickly received wide acceptance by chains, cooperatives and wholesalers. Now, according to H. E. Meinhold, Duffy-Mott president, the drinks have almost 100 per cent distribution in New England, are carried by most leading chains in Chicago, the three major chains in the Philadelphia area, and distribution has begun in Baltimore, Washington, and some 20 other major markets east of the Mississippi.

"A New Jersey market," Meinhold said, "recently moved 175 cases in three days and many stores are moving 100 cases a week."

York Springs Post Need Is Desperate

"The situation is desperate in York Springs for Explorer Scouting," Stanley Rogers, district Scout executive, said today as he announced the third and final training sessions for Scouting to be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Scout cabin at York Springs.

Last week no adults turned out for the scheduled session on Explorer leadership. The session for Boy Scouting was attended.

Rogers emphasized that it is important for parents of boys in the age 15 group or in high school to show some interest in the Explorer program if it is to continue in the community.

"If the York Springs unit is dropped, it will be the first unit lost in the Black Walnut District in three and a half years," he said. Rogers will conduct tonight's session on Explorer Scouting. His subject will be "Saving the Explorer Post—What's Our Future Course?"

Don Carver, Black Walnut District training chairman, will be in charge of the Boy Scouting training session on the subject, "Patrol and Troop Activities."

ORPHANAGE GETS $100

Senate Approves Payroll Inspection

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted early today to push aside the secrecy that has surrounded its payroll of its members. It agreed to publish the names and salaries of all Senate employees every three months.

Office payrolls of individual senators have been kept secret since 1948. Members could make public their own payrolls if they wished.

Demands for opening the payrolls to public inspection arose earlier in the year after newspaper stories about House members with relatives working for them. In the House, payroll records are available for examination.

GOVERNOR'S SKIN IS DEAD AT 78

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's mother-in-law, Mrs. Percy H. Clark, died Wednesday night at her home on Philadelphia's Main Line. She was 78.

The cause of her death was not disclosed.

Governor Rockefeller was informed of the death just before he was to address the Rockland County Republican Committee in Spring Valley, N.Y. His talk was delayed while he spent an hour on the phone to the Clark home.

Mrs. Clark was widely known in social circles here and in Northeast Harbor, Me., where she had a summer home. She was a daughter of George B. Roberts, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad in the 1880s. She was the aunt of Sen. Joseph P. Clark (D-Pa.).

She leaves her husband, a lawyer; eight children; 22 grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

AMBOY, Calif. (AP) — An African lion is roaming the lava beds and arid wastelands of the Mojave Desert.

Sheriff's Sgt. Robert Lorimer says the lion has been showing up regularly to the consternation of miners, homesteaders and travelers on U.S. Highway 66.

The lion escaped from his cage after a traveling circus truck had a highway accident last March.

No Ranches Near

There are no cattle ranches in the area, and the few settlers who have goats or chickens have reported no losses. Lorimer says that's a danger the 120-degree heat may force the animal to roam settled areas in search of water.

The lion—whose ribs are beginning to protrude because of his desert diet of jackrabbits—has been seen four times in the last six days.

One homesteader said he opened his front door, saw the big cat staring at him, grabbed his gun, fired three shots and missed each time. The lion paddled off.

FAST SENATE ACTION OK'S RECORD DEBT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fast Senate action has authorized a seven-billion-dollar increase in the national debt—to a peace-time record of $29 billion dollars.

With equal speed, the Treasury announced less than an hour later it would take advantage of the new debt ceiling by borrowing five billion dollars in new cash early next month.

Useful Senate procedure was pushed aside for the House-passed measure after Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Democratic leader, said the Treasury was holding up action on a big refinancing operation until the new ceiling was set.

Voices Opposition

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) voiced the only opposition vote heard. He said the government ought to practice more economy.

If Congress had not acted, the present temporary 288-billion-dollar limit would have dropped to the permanent 283-billion limit next Tuesday, the start of a new fiscal year.

The debt varies from day to day and now ranges around 286 billion dollars.

WEEK LONG STEEL STRIKE ENDED TODAY

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A week-long strike of open hearth workers at the South Side plant of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. here ended early today and the company immediately began resuming operations.

The strikers voted to end the walkout at a membership meeting of United Steelworkers Local 1272. They struck Sunday night in a dispute over incentive pay rates.

J. & L. said it expected little delay in getting production back to normal. In addition to the 1,800 strikers, some 4,200 other employees had been idled.

On Tuesday roving pickets idled two shifts at J. & L.'s Hazelwood plant, lying across the Monongahela River from the South Side plant. Together, the two operations comprise the company's Pittsburgh Works.

6,000 Affected

Curtailment of open hearth production at the South Side plant caused J. & L. to effect some cutbacks at Hazelwood, which employs about 6,000.

Three iron-making blast furnaces at Hazelwood had been banked and two others had been put on a standby basis.

The strike resulted from what the open hearth workers said was a reduction in incentive pay rates without the company notifying the union.

J. & L. termed the walkout a contract violation. The union said J. & L. had violated the contract.

USW officials urged the strikers to return to their jobs earlier, but they balked without a guarantee from J. & L. that no disciplinary action would be taken.

There was no indication the company had changed its position on this score.

WANTS END TO "MAFIA" TALK

READING, Pa. (AP) — The national head of the Order of the Sons of Italy said today he going to ask federal law enforcement officials either to break up the Mafia or admit it is a myth.

Joseph Gorrasi, a Woburn, Mass., lawyer and supreme venerable of the Italian-American fraternal organization, said the recurring use of the word Mafia has affected the good name of Americans of Italian extraction.

Gorrasi made the statement in a speech prepared for the opening session of the Pennsylvania Sons of Italy convention.

He said he planned to visit FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, Sen. John McClellan (D-Ark), head of the Senate Rackets Committee, and Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers to ask them to disclose any evidence they may have of Mafia activity.

"If there is a Mafia it should be exposed and the members who violate the law should be prosecuted," Gorrasi said. "No American condones violation of the law. If there is not an organization of Italian-born criminals, this fact should be made clear to the public."

"THE LOVABLE SNARE"

I stood in a garden of roses . . . gazing on flowers so sweet . . . this heavenly place of enchantment . . . made life seem tender, complete . . . such beauty could never be painted . . . or planted in cleverest rhyme . . . yes, I was a captive of splendor . . . that made me lose all track of time . . . with every faint breeze there was incense . . . a kind of which great dreams are made . . . and for a magical moment . . . my heart sang a warm serenade . . . I was most prone to pick one . . . but something said "let the blooms stay" . . . still my eyes were fixed on the blossoms . . . that formed such a poignant bouquet . . . a cloud hid the sun, I felt raindrops . . . only then was I fully aware . . . that I must take leave of the roses . . . that formed such a lovable snare.

Duffalo gave up seven hits and five walks, and posted his seventh win against five losses.

Last-place York, winning three of its four games against Allentown, came up with a five run explosion in the fourth and two more tallies in the sixth to make the score 7-1. Bob Burda, with a double and a triple, had 3 rbi's. Allentown came back with five runs in the seventh, but couldn't put across the rest. Pitcher Ernie Lewis notched his sixth win over two losses.

Penna. Dutch Folk Festival Opening

KUTZTOWN, Pa. (AP) — The 10th annual Pennsylvania Dutch Folk festival opens Saturday with a documentary movie on the Amish folk to launch a week of festivities.

The borough of Kutztown, in the heart of the Pennsylvania Dutch country, expects to have 100,000 visitors during the festival.

More than 250 Dutch country delicacies prepared by Kutztown area women, will be offered for sale to visitors.

The movie was filmed by Vincent Tortora of Lancaster and portrays such aspects of Amish life as prayer meetings, auctions and courtings.

The festival ends July 4 with the induction of 200 area youths into the Navy's Distelfink Battalion.

Local Flier Prisoner Of War Of Nazis: Sergeant Charles B. Coffman, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Coffman, Buford avenue, is a prisoner of war of the Germans, the parents were notified by telegram from the War Department on Sunday.

Sergeant Coffman, a nose gunner on a B-24, was a member of the crew of the big ship that was sent on a mission over the Ruhr valley.

The account of the accident was described by the pilot of an accompanying bomber in a letter to the local youth's parents.

While over the Ruhr, Coffman's bomber was badly damaged. First one engine was shot away and then a second was put out of commission by enemy fire. After dropping its bombs on the target Coffman's pilot headed for his base in England.

The speed of the ship was greatly reduced by the loss of the motors and one bomber and several fighters cut their speed to give protection to their crippled shipmate. Just as the bomber headed over the channel, number three engine caught fire. The pilot bailed out, the big ship crashing in France.

CANDIDATES FOR FRIENDSHIP

Strangers have always interested me. They all look the same as those who have been my friends for years—but the person I sit beside in a bus, or the one who sat at a table beyond where I sat in a hotel, is one and the same, only as he or she becomes known to me and is a candidate for friendship. Why should a stranger seem so far away from us, almost like a new specimen of human being?

Meeting strangers and getting them into our conscious thoughts is a delightful experience. It makes life more livable, and Heaven more a possibility!

4. Married a Panama millionaire, Eugene Charles McGrath, whom she met on the set in Louisiana when he dropped in to see his friend, John Wayne.

Tall, blonde, blue-eyed and devastating, Connie says:

World's Luckiest Girl

I guess I'm just about the luckiest girl in the world. On top of everything else, Gene is enthusiastic about my career and wants me to go right on making pictures. He can travel with me when we shoot on location, and that makes everything just perfect.

Becoming a movie star isn't all champagne and roses, however, says Connie. When Ford picked her for the part of Hannah Hunter, rebel captured by Yankee soldiers, she had to learn to ride side-saddle and spent much of her time falling into mud holes during the shooting.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "A Book Is a Person."

A CREEED

To be content with what is mine,
To tread a rough and stony way

And still rejoice in what is fine,
And with a smile complete the day.

To march along with time and men,

Unfaltering and unafraid;

To try my very best, and then
If that fails, to be undismayed.

To keep my faith in God,

In darkness and despair I
grope,

To see above the clouds of woe
And misery, the rays of hope.

To bear my share of grief and pain,

Believing, when it's understood,
My suffering is not in vain

But thrust upon me for my good.

Rain Again Threatens Postponed Title Fight

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Another threat of rain and a ticket stub today hung over the once-postponed Floyd Patterson-Ingebar Johansson heavyweight title fight—probably the most harassed heavyweight promotion ever.

The fighters and promoter Bill Rosensohn peered anxiously at the glowering sky, wondering whether the 15-round show would be able to go on tonight at 9:30 p.m. (EST) at Yankee Stadium.

The forecast was far from promising. The weatherman predicted another warm, humid day with scattered thunderstorms this afternoon and night.

Same As Thursday

It was virtually the same forecast that was made Thursday and came true. Rain muddied the field at the stadium, forcing Rosensohn to announce the postponement at 1:05 p.m.

Ironically, the rain stopped in the evening. At the scheduled fight time, it was cool but a heavy mist shrouded the tops of the skyscrapers. The $100 "deluxe, red carpet" customers, however, would have been ankle deep in mud.

Another bad break like that may delay the long-awaited scrap until Monday. Rosensohn and Irving Kahn, president of TelePrompTer which is running the closed-circuit telecast to theaters, said that if the weather was bad today and the forecast was not optimistic for Saturday, they might put it over until Monday.

Ticket Hassle Looms

The ticket hassle may come to a showdown today. Rosensohn refused to make refunds Thursday after the postponement was announced despite an order to do so by Gen. Melvin Krulwich, chairman of the State Athletic Commission.

Krulwich said the commission rules required the promoter to make refunds on demand. Rosensohn said his lawyer's interpretation of the rules indicated no refund was mandatory.

"I don't want to hurt any people but I've got to protect the promotion," said the weary, Rosensohn.

The commission rule is vague, but it has been observed by other promoters in the past. Krulwich said he would take it up with a lawyer.

Some Refunds

If another postponement is required, however, Rosensohn said the return policy would be reviewed. He said that he is making refunds for hardship cases.

That would have to include Swedes and other out-of-towners who have booked transportation today.

As for the fighters, they took the delay calmly enough. After all, this was just one of many incidents that have plagued the promotion. There have been law suits, a threat by Patterson's manager to take the fight out of New York, and probably anything else you can name.

Ties Up Purse

After the weigh-in ceremony — Johansson weighed 196 to Patterson's 182—the fighters, their managers, the promoter and virtually everyone else connected with the promotion were served with legal papers on behalf of California contractors Eddie Machen and the Chicago Stadium Corp.

Machen obtained a writ of attachment in federal court to tie up Johansson's purse. Machen and the Chicago Stadium are seeking $1,229,375 damages because Johansson allegedly violated a contract to give Machen a return bout.

"I will be stronger," said Johansson who did some shadow boxing Thursday, his first lick of work since last Saturday.

Champ In Seclusion

"Certainly I don't like the delay," he said, "but I'm sure the delay will not bother me. I feel fine now and I will not lose my edge."

The 26-year-old unbeaten European champion had a steak dinner at his midtown hotel, then took a stroll through the streets. He topped off the evening by taking in a movie with his pretty fiance, Birgit Lundgren.

Patterson loosened up somewhere in town. Manager Gus D'Amato wouldn't say where. Then the 24-year-old champ went into seclusion.

Odds Lengthen

There were reports that the odds favoring Patterson had jumped from 4-1 to 5-1. Several of the bigger bookies, however, held the price at 4-1 but reported very light betting.

Many Fail To Remember All God's Service

By REV. HAROLD L. MYERS

Pastor

Foursquare Gospel Church
The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad: Psalms 126:3.

There are times when Christians look too much on the dark side of everything, with the attitude, what have I done, rather than what God has done for me. If we were to ask Christians their impressions of the Christian life, many would say, "I am in a continual conflict, it is a hard battle I have to fight, you don't know what I have to go through, etc." We often fail to remember the Lord hath done great things for us! Our Lord is merciful and He has promised to help His own. He said in Heb. 13:5 I will never leave, never." Surely the Lord is likely to read this scripture in reverse, "Thee forsake, not thee leave, never. Surely the Lord is always around to do great things for His own.

"Honor Of God"

The Christian whose soul is healthy will come forth joyously, and say, "I speak, not about myself, but to the honor of God the Father." As David said "He hath brought me up out of a horrible pit, and out of the miry clay, and set my feet upon a rock, and established my goings. And he hath put a new song in my mouth, even praise unto our God." This testimony is the best kind of expression any child of God can present to his Heavenly Father.

It is true, as Christians we endure trials but it is just as true that we are delivered out of them. It is true we have besetting sins and corruptions, but we also have an all-sufficient Saviour, Who overcomes these corruptions and delivers us from their dominion.

In looking back on our past lives it would be wrong to deny that we have been in the slough of despond, and have ever been humiliated, but it would be equally wrong to forget that we have gone through this safely, and to our profit. We have not remained in sin, thanks to God, Who hath led His own through it all and preserved us until now. Our grief, sicknesses, trials etc., cannot mar the song of melody and the song of praise we see. "He hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad."

BLUE CROSS RAISE OK'D

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Insurance Department has approved an average 28.6 per cent increase in rates charged by Capital Hospital Service, Harrisburg, central Pennsylvania's Blue Cross plan.

Commissioner Francis R. Smith Thursday approved the full increase asked by the service. It will take effect Aug. 1.

Smith must still rule on an application filed by the Hospital Service of Northeastern Pennsylvania, Wilkes-Barre. He previously approved full increases sought by the Hospital Service Assn. of Western Pennsylvania and The Associated Hospital Service of Philadelphia.

Capital serves 700,000 subscribers in central Pennsylvania.

The increases, affecting all but a few special group policies, will amount to about $3,950,000 a year.

CHEROKEE, N.C. (AP)—An 11-mile stretch of road linking the Blue Ridge Parkway and the Park was opened formally Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Thomas, Baltimore, were recent visitors

No Need To Tell Them...

There was no need to tell them to drive carefully or worry much about their getting home too late.

They were eight happy, level-headed youngsters, and they were on their way to the high school prom.

But death waited for seven of them at a railroad crossing. It could have happened here, anywhere—but it happened at Shelbyville, Ill., a few weeks ago.

You'll long remember the step-by-step retracing of the prom night tragedy by AP Newsfeatures Writer Sam Pett, whose full-page story will appear Monday, June 29, in The Gettysburg Times. It may even make you think twice before hopping into the family car that Fourth of July weekend trip.

of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Walter.

Mrs. Harry Ross, Sparrows Point, Md., and Mrs. Claude Kniffin and daughter, Peggy, Baltimore, visited Tuesday with Mrs. Ross brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Wetzel. They also visited at the Luther Baltyz home, Gettysburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Nary and son, Donald, Waynesboro, spent Sunday with the Mr. Nary's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Nary.

Miss Mertie Holsinger returned to Chambersburg after a stay with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Saum, at the Howard Saum home. Other recent visitors at the Saum home were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beck, Willard, Ohio; Russel Baker, Shiloh, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bromwell, Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Yoder and children, Larry and Judy, Essex, Md., accompanied Mr. Yoder's mother, Mrs. Verna Yoder, of here, to Allensville, Pa., where they spent the weekend with Mrs. Yoder's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hertzler, and the Misses Julia and Audrey Hertzler.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Chapman and sons, Kenneth and Dean, spent Saturday afternoon in Hanover with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wentz. The condition of Mrs. Wentz, who is confined to bed at her home with rheumatic fever for some

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED FOR WOMAN'S CLUB

Mrs. Anna B. Leach was installed officer when the officers of the Woman's Community Club of Littlestown and Vicinity for the 1959-1960 term assumed their duties, at the June meeting of the club on Wednesday evening in the social room of the Eagles' home.

Officers will be: President, Mrs. Robert J. Eckenrode; first vice president, Mrs. Robert R. Miller; second vice president, Mrs. Edward H. Leister; recording secretary, Mrs. Chester S. Byers; assistant recording secretary, Mrs. Paul E. Alcott; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Robert J. Stonesifer, and treasurer, Mrs. Sterling J. Wisotzkey.

The business was in charge of Mrs. Eckenrode. A moment of silent prayer was observed for Mrs. George Mayers, recently deceased member. Reports were heard from Mrs. Chester S. Byers and Mrs. Sterling J. Wisotzkey.

The civic service committee, Mrs. Clarence Beachtel, chairman, noted that plans for the bus trip to Allenberry for dinner and a play were postponed until the latter part of July, when the schedule of local events is not as full and the plays are more desirable for the members. Each member will be contacted concerning the date and the play selected by the committee, by a committee member. Assisting Mrs. Beachtel will be Mrs. John D. Basehor, Mrs. Warren Bilek, Mrs. Marvin F. Breighner, Mrs. Holman L. Sell and Mrs. Harry W. Stavely Jr.

Committees Report

The annual report of the cheer committee was given by Mrs. Edward T. Richardson Sr., chairman and the annual report of the finance committee, Mrs. Leonard L. Potter, was given by Mrs. Sterling J. Wisotzkey. Literature concerning multiple sclerosis was available from the president who read a letter on how individuals can help. Mrs. Anna B. Leach volunteered to serve as chairman for club contests and to do the necessary correspondence to find out the rules and other matters involved. There was a discussion on possible plans for next year's fashion show and members are to think about it during the summer when there are no formal meetings.

A vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Cloy I. Crouse and Mrs. Joseph R. Riden, club members who are custodians of the local library.

Reports On Convention

It was announced that an average of 35 books was borrowed each week during the winter months and last week there were 80 books given to patrons. The library will not be open on Monday, July 6, due to vacation week.

Mrs. Eckenrode, who was delegate from the club to the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs and Mrs. Robert H. Miller, who was delegate from the County Federation, gave brief reports on the evening, presented Mrs. Cloy I. Crouse, also a club member, who showed colored slides concerning the seven weeks trip which she and Mr. Crouse took through Europe. There were scenes from Portugal, Spain, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Belgium, France, Germany and England.

Refreshments were served by the hostess committee. Mrs. Carrie Strine, Mrs. Karl Bankert, Mrs. Edward H. Brown, Mrs. Anna B. Leech, Mrs. Claude E. Snyder, Mrs. Mollie Yingling and Glenna Place.

Promoted

Leroy H. Study, 1607th Periodic Maint. Group, Dover Air Force Base, Dover, Del., has been promoted from airman second class to airman first class. He received his basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, and was then stationed for three months at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, before being moved to Dover. Airman Study is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Study, 63 Crouse Park, Littlestown, and husband of Mrs. Kathryn Eckenrode Study, who resides with him in Dover.

Church Women Go To Allenberry

Twenty-nine members and their guests of the Ladies' Aid Society of Redeemer's United Church of Christ enjoyed Wednesday evening at Allenberry, near Boiling Springs. The group had dinner at the Allenberry Inn and then attended the playhouse production of "Maybe Tuesday." The trip was made by bus.

Those who went to Allenberry were Mrs. William W. Seibert, Mrs. Edward Gobrecht, Mrs. Horace C. Koontz, Mrs. Mary Bowersox, Mrs. Woodrow H. Bowman, Miss Diane Bowman, Mrs. Claude Olinger, Mrs. Ervin A. Robert, Mrs. Clement A. Smeeringer, Mrs. Harry C. Wildasin, Mrs. Glenn S. Kauffman, Mrs. Kenneth W. Olinger, Mrs. Carroll W. Dodrill, Mrs. Bruce Shirk, Mrs. Richard Staley, Mrs. Stanley R. Sell, Mrs. Samuel H. Higginbotham, Mrs. Donald March, Mrs. Clinton Wintrode, Mrs. John W. SCOUTS WILL CAMP AT DAM

The Boy Scouts of Troop 84 will have their annual week at camp leaving tomorrow morning for Natural Dam. The boys will leave town from the Scout headquarters on M St. at 8:30 a.m. on Saturday, and will return home the following Saturday, July 4, about noon. Adult leaders accompanying the Scouts will be Scoutmaster Edgar A. Wolfe, assistant Scoutmasters Paul E. Renner, John R. Rudisill Sr., Victor Reynolds, James P. Hahn, Jack Rudisill, Carroll Reed and Explorer Scouts. The cook will be U. Ray Study, assisted by Robert Hahn.

Services will be held as usual on Sunday morning for the Protestant boys. The Catholic Scouts will be brought to St. Aloysius Church for mass. Visitors Day will be observed on Thursday evening, July 2. There will be a special program by the Scouts for the visitors entertainment. Visitors for the evening may enter the camp site by crossing the footbridge or using the paths along the creek.

The camping cost is $6 for each Scout, and this includes meals, lodging and insurance. This amount should be paid when the boys leave for camp. Things to be brought to the camp site by each boy include extra camp clothing, extra shoes and socks, extra underwear and shirts, sweater, bathing trunks, old pair of shoes or sneakers to walk to the swimming hole, two blankets or a bedroll, two towels, wash-cloth, soap, poncho or raincoat, pajamas, Scout uniform, pencil and paper, Scout handbook, tooth-brush and paste, camera and flashlight, compass, knife, axe, messkit or dishes with knife, fork, spoon and cup. Everything should be placed in a box, preferably a wood or metal box, with lid and lock on it, and taken to the Scout headquarters tomorrow morning. Boys owning folding cots should bring them.

Mission Group Holds Meeting

Mrs. John H. Harlaub was leader at the June meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Luke's Union Church, near White Hall, held on Wednesday evening in the church grove auditorium with 83 persons in attendance. A fried chicken dinner was served by the King's Daughters Class, and sponsored by the Young Men's Bible Class. Claude O. Meckley, retired postmaster of Hanover, and teacher in St. Matthew's Lutheran Church School, was the guest speaker for the occasion. His subject was "Faith Of Our Fathers And Obedience Of Sons," using the Biblical characters Abraham and Joseph as examples.

The program opened with the group hymn, "Faith Of Our Fathers," led by Charles A. Grove and accompanied by George D. Koons, and continued with the invocation, the Rev. G. Howard Koons, pastor; toast to fathers, Ronald Lehn; instrumental duet, James D. Sterner, playing trumpet and George D. Koons, accordion; address, Mrs. Meckley; presentation of gifts to the oldest father, Edgar W. Berwager; youngest father present, William A. Markle; youngest son, Steve Grove, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grove; father with the most sons present, Ivan E. Arentz, Delphia J. Sterner and the Rev. Mr. Koons, three each; closing hymn, "God Be With You."

The boys were divided into groups according to age, and the confirmation class were guests for the evening. The program was arranged by Amos S. Carbaugh, Charles A. Grove and Charles T. Lehn. The latter served as toastmaster. The business period was in charge of Mrs. Robert Gladhill, president. Mrs. Shultz read a letter from the National Women's Guild announcing a conference at Cedar Crest College, Allentown. The used clothing drive now being sponsored by the society will conclude at the end of June and donations may be taken to the church until that time. It was decided to conduct election of officers in September, although the new officers will not assume their new duties until after the new year. Mrs. Paul Chonister was appointed leader for the next regular meeting on Wednesday, July 22, at 8 p.m. at the church.

NEWARK, N.Y. (AP) — Nine-month-old Fred Murphy, found dead at the base of a lamp, apparently touched an exposed cord and was electrocuted, the coroner ruled Wednesday.

Cub Pack Holds Family Picnic

The annual Family Night picnic of Cub Pack No. 84 was held on Wednesday evening at the Littlestown Fish and Game Farm, near town. Over 50 persons were in attendance. A picnic supper was enjoyed and the fishing contest followed. Since the Fish and Game pond was being drained, the contest was held at the pond on the Sterling Farm, near town. Prizes for fishing were awarded as follows: Robert Weaver, for the first fish caught, received a tackle box; Craig Zumbrun, for the most fish caught, a creel; Robin Weaver, for the biggest fish caught, a rod and reel. The den dads were judges.

Red Cross swimming instructions for the Cubs will be offered July 20-31 at Crouse's Pool, near town. The first day of instructions, the boys will leave town at 10 a.m. Details concerning the course will be announced later.

The Cub will enjoy their annual big league baseball game in Baltimore on September 12. Fathers of the Cubs are urged to volunteer transportation. The Cubs will be admitted to the ball park free. However, the fathers will pay admission.

CARBO SEEKS BAIL IN COURT ACTION TODAY

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Frankie Carbo, wanted in New York as the alleged underworld boss of boxing, sought his freedom on bail today at a habeas corpus hearing in Camden County Court.

His attorney, Joseph Tomaselli, filed a writ of habeas corpus June 12 claiming that Carbo was being held illegally. Judge Benjamin Dzick, at a hearing on June 5, rejected Carbo's $25,000 bail and remanded him to the county jail.

New York wants to extradite Carbo to try him on 10 counts of conspiracy and acting as a boxing manager and promoter without being licensed. The indictment was handed down last July 24. Carbo was arrested on May 30 in nearby Haddon Township at the home of a friend, William Ripka, a wealthy haberdasher. He was charged with being a fugitive from justice. At a hearing then, he was freed on bail. But five days later the bail was revoked.

Tax Evasion Charges

The 54-year-old Carbo also is wanted on income tax evasion charges. He has a record of 14 arrests, including five on murder charges, and one conviction for manslaughter in the slaying of a New York taxi driver several years ago.

Carbo appeared at the June 5 hearing, according to his attorney, to disprove rumors that he had jumped bail and fled. At that time Chief Asst. Dist. Atty. Alfred J. Scotti of New York asked the court for an early hearing on the habeas corpus petition, saying:

"The alleged criminal acts of this man have had a most corrupt, corrosive and degenerating influence on the sport of boxing, and New York is very anxious to move his trial as speedily as possible."

HAS ENOUGH VOTES TO PASS 3 TAX BILLS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Rep. Stephen McCann, House Democratic leader, said Thursday he has enough votes without Republican help to pass three administration tax bills which have been stalled in the House.

McCann said he would decide on Monday whether to force a show-down vote on the measures—two of which have been defeated once—next week.

"I have asked to meet with Republican leaders and after that I'll announce whether there'll be a vote next week," said McCann. "We are in a position now to pass certain tax bills with only Democratic votes."

He also expressed confidence that Gov. Lawrence "will present an up-to-date picture concerning estimated revenue, taxation and budget matters" in a special appearance before a joint session of the Legislature Monday.

To Address Solons

Lawrence asked permission Wednesday to address the Legislature. But he didn't say what he would talk about.

The three tax measures listed by McCann would bring in an estimated 77 million dollars in the next two years. They would:

Increase the six-mill bank share tax to 10 mills (12 million).

Place a six-mill tax on such intangible goods as stocks and bonds (55 million).

Levy a 14-mill gross receipts levy on gas companies (10 million).

Nigeria, in British West Africa, with 23 million persons, has the largest population in the British, French, Belgian and Portuguese colonies.

Staged Robbery To Get Publicity

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—John Clyatt told Judge Gerald Levin he robbed the state unemployment office of $1,500 not for the money but to get publicity for his literary efforts.

The judge let him off with a six-month jail term and five years probation, but warned: "This is not the best way to get publicity for your magnum opus."

Clyatt, 29, was arrested several days after the holdup in April when he complained to police that "some dirty crook" broke into the Greyhound locker and stole the $1,500 he had hidden there.

He told Judge Levin he had intended to hold onto the money until he had sent a manuscript to a publisher.

Doctors' Auction To Aid Auxiliary

Auctioneer Clair Slaybaugh will "cry" the sale of an assortment of items at the "Doctors' Auction" to be held Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock near the garage area north of the Warner Hospital.

Sporting equipment, hunting and fishing gear, car accessories, furniture, pictures, books, and many other types of useful articles will be among the "new and usable articles" offered. One spokesman for the medical staff emphasized that it will not be a "white elephant" sale of surplus or cast-off articles.

Proceeds of the auction will be turned over to the Woman's Auxiliary to enable it to pay off its pledge toward the new wing of the hospital. Dr. Roy W. Gifford and Dr. James Allison are in charge of arrangements for the auction under sponsorship of the medical staff.

The original parking lot at Warner Hospital was constructed in 1945.

The deep therapy equipment at Warner Hospital is the result of a $10,000 gift of the Elks Lodge.

PRESIDENT MAY VETO BUDGET RAISING BILL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The possibility that President Eisenhower might veto a $4,056,746,581 health-labor money bill that pierces his budget ceiling was raised Thursday by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.).

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, said in an interview he thinks Eisenhower is so determined to balance the budget he may well take the unusual course of rejecting the major money measure.

No chief executive has vetoed a major appropriations bill since 1948, when Congress overrode former President Truman's rejection of a labor-federal security money measure.

Johnson Is Guide

Guided by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate passed the bill by a lopsided 83-10 vote Wednesday. Previously it had throttled, 70-26, a move by Dirksen to send it back to committee with instructions to cut the money total down to the $3,691,000. Eisenhower requested. The House had voted a $3,849,000,000 total.

Johnson, a heart attack victim as was Eisenhower, led the fight in committee and in the Senate for a 480 million dollar allotment for widespread research programs.

Cancer, heart and mental health research would consume the lion's share of these funds which were about 186 millions above Eisenhower's requests and 136 million more than the House approved.

This money was part of the $3,551,991,081 appropriated for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The bill carried $485,214,500 for the Labor Department, $14,230,000 for the National Labor Relations Board, $1,357,000 for the National Mediation Board, $4,949,000 for the Federal Mediation and Conciliation service and some smaller items.

Long Claims He's Sane; Calls His Wife Jealous

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — state was in "good hands" under Gov. Earl K. Long Wednesday night assured the people of Louisiana he is sane and predicted he would win his freedom from a mental hospital in a court test Friday.

In a surprise radio interview taped in the ward where he rests 79 miles from his empty capital office, Long said:

"If I felt for one second that my mentality wasn't equal to the occasion of running the governor's office, I'd resign."

The night also brought a series of unexpected moves.

Contest Jurisdiction

1. Atty. Gen. Jack Gremlin filed papers reportedly contesting the jurisdiction of the Covington court where Long is to wage his habeas corpus freedom battle Friday.

2. Long's chief counsel, Joe Arthur Sims of Hammond, answered Gremlin's shift strategy by saying: "I'm satisfied we're in the right court."

3. Judge Robert D. Jones of Covington's 22nd Judicial District Court declined to indicate which way his judicial leanings would swing. He said he would comment in court "when and if I am called upon to rule."

Undermined By Nephew

Sims said he taped the interview with the governor because of the press of phone calls on Long's health. New Orleans station WNOE broadcast it and then made it available to statewide radio and television stations.

"I've been undermined by my nephew (Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.), by my wife, and my supposed cousin, Dr. Arthur Long in Baton Rouge," the 63-year-old governor charged in a high-pitched voice. The three signed Long's original commitment papers and spirited him to Galveston, Tex., on May 30.

Call Wife Jealous

The governor called his wife "one of the most jealous women God ever let live." He said the

TAX EXTENSION BILL MAY MEET HIGHWAY NEEDS

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — A simple tax extension bill mushroomed today into a possible vehicle for financing interstate highway, wiping out a passenger travel tax and revising other levies.

The need for meeting a July 1 deadline as it headed into a marathon session to consider proposed amendments to the revenue measure.

The bill as passed by the House June 8 would extend for another year the present rates on various excise and corporate income taxes. Unless it becomes law by July 1, these would drop to pre-Korean war levels, and government revenues would decline an estimated three billion dollars a year.

Last Minute Addition

The proposal to divert other revenues into the highway trust fund, to assure continued road building, was a last-minute addition to the list of amendments to be considered.

It was put forth by Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) as President Eisenhower cautioned that unless Congress acts, new lack of funds will force an almost complete halt in new interstate road building projects within the next two years.

To keep the program going, Eisenhower has been urging a 1½-cents-a-gallon increase in the federal gasoline tax, now three cents. He said Wednesday that other alternatives are being considered "would be unacceptable to me."

Highway Trust Fund

Gore nevertheless proposed to divert to the special highway trust fund 968 million dollars a year of highway user taxes on automobiles, trucks, buses, auto and truck parts and lubricating oil.

These funds now go into the treasury's general fund. Eisenhower contends they are needed there to help meet other government costs.

But the President would find it difficult to veto the tax extension bill if the diversion amendment were included, because of the loss of other taxes.

The tax extension bill was approved only Wednesday by the Senate Finance Committee. To the House bill, it added provisions to end this year a 10 per cent tax on passenger tickets, and to wipe out next year a similar levy on telephone and telegraph messages.

Abbottstown

ABBOTTSTOWN — The Rev. Louis S. Dougherty, pastor of Paradise Catholic Church and superintendent of Paradise School, has begun planning for the service of rededication of the completely renovated chapel at the school. The service will probably be held in July.

The chapel, used also by Paradise parishioners, has been closed for the past year for repairs. Sunday services have been held in the parish church and weekday Masses in a temporary chapel arranged in another room of the school building.

The Rev. Fr. Dougherty was among the priests from nearby areas assisting with the solemnities which closed the annual 40 hours devotions at Conewago Chapel, the host church erected in 1787.

Four Baptized

Mrs. Sterling Showers, Mrs. Kenneth Crawford and Glenn Baker Jr. were received into membership in St. John's Lutheran Church Sunday. The pastor, the Rev. Lester J. Karschner, baptized four children, Carl William Eicker II, Kerri Helene Schultz, Robin Elizabeth Neff and Jeffrey Scott Kessell.

St. John's Church and Emmanuel United Church of Christ are planning to organize a Cub Scout pack. Meetings to explain the program have been scheduled for July 6, 12 and 15 at 8 p.m. in the United Church of Christ. Parents of boys aged 8 to 10 are being urged to attend.

There were 157 pupils and a staff of 29 for the Vacation Church School. The staff was composed of the following: Pre-school, Mrs. Lester Spangler; Mrs. Raymond Laughman, Mrs. Raymond Swope, Joyce Straubbaugh, Mrs. Naomi Meckley; Mrs. Gilbert Zeigler, Mrs. Martin Alleman, Mrs. Carl Alwine, Betsy Hollinger, Nancy Spangler and Mrs. Sheila Meckley; junior, Mrs. John Lillitch, Mrs. John Martin, the Rev. L. J. Karschner, Mrs. L. J. Karschner, Adrienne Hoke, Sandra Gruber, Robert Meckley and Richard Karschner; primary, Mrs. Bernard Anthony, Mrs. Maurice Holospole, Mrs. George Wildasin, Betty Swope, Janine Baker, Mrs. William Conway and Mrs. Jack Housman. Carol Ostrom taught the Junior High Class. The Rev. John Martin and Carol Rousborg served in administrative capacities throughout the school.

The tax extension bill was approved only Wednesday by the Senate Finance Committee. To the House bill, it added provisions to end this year a 10 per cent tax on passenger tickets, and to wipe out next year a similar levy on telephone and telegraph messages.

Zentz Auto Sales Checks All Cars Before Re-sale; Back Up Car Guarantees

"We stand by our car guarantees 100 per cent and the best proof of that is that a large percentage of our sales are to former customers who have been satisfied in former deals and have come back to us when they again are in need of a car."

That statement was made this week by Carroll M. Zentz, 37-year-old proprietor of Zentz Auto Sales on Carlisle St. at Railroad, as he explained the policies that have guided him in the used auto business since he was 21 years of age.

He entered the used car business at 21 in Thurmont, Md., and after a year went into the U.S. Merchant Marines where he served for a year.

"Say One For Me" To Play At Majestic

When producer-director Frank Tashlin, one of Hollywood's masters of comedy, was given the production go-ahead signal to make Twentieth Century-Fox's "Say One For Me," opening Wednesday at the Majestic Theater, he had one cast in mind: Bing Crosby, Debbie Reynolds and Robert Wagner.

But the big stumbling block was simultaneously assembling this talented trio for the Cinemascope-De Luxe color film attraction. If one of the group was ready to start, another had a previous commitment. But perhaps, director Tashlin offered a prayer heavenward (as the title suggests) because one day the trio became free of all commitments and "Say One For Me" began to roll.

As a previous Oscar-winner for his performance as a priest in "Going My Way," and his appealing follow-up, also in the garb of a cleric, in "The Bells of St. Mary's," Tashlin considered "the old groaner" a natural for the part of "Father Conroy," whose parish is located in the heart of New York's theatrical district. In this picture Crosby returns to the screen in a role that has made his stardom in the motion picture industry a lasting tribute. Singing songs in his own carefree manner and delivering comedy lines as only he can, were the moving factors in Tashlin's urge to cast Crosby in this role.

Harry D. Ridinger, 10 Carlisle St., who has completed a three-year apprenticeship in the real estate business, has been licensed by the state Department of Public Instruction as a real estate broker. The license was issued by the Real Estate Commission of the DPI after Ridinger successfully passed a state test.

In addition to his business as a real estate broker, Mr. Ridinger handles all types of fire, automobile, theft, all lines of casualty insurance, accident and health policies and hospitalization insurance. He also represents bonding companies. He is the local representative of the Aetna Casualty Company and the Union Mutual Insurance Company of Providence, R. I.

Now second vice commander of the Albert J. Lentz Post No. 202 of the American Legion, Ridinger also is chef de gare of the Forty and Eight and a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

On April 4, 1942, he and the former Miss LaRue Krause, then a home economics teacher at Gettysburg High School, were united in marriage. They have three sons and a daughter.

Mr. Ridinger got into the insurance business when he left the Adams County court house at the end of two four-year terms as county register and recorder. Earlier he had been deputy clerk of the courts under Roy D. Renner until he entered the Army on December 10, 1941. He served until October 17, 1945, and was

FIRE DESTROYS DARBY THEATER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The sprawling two-story Darby Theater building in suburban Darby was destroyed Wednesday night by a fire which apparently smoldered unnoticed for several hours.

Sixteen firemen, sickened by the dense smoke and bruised fighting the blaze, were treated at a hospital. Thirty more were treated at the scene. Seven alarms were sounded.

Fire Chief John Floyd said damage would exceed $700,000. The cause of the fire was not known.

The building houses a movie theater open only on weekends and several stores and offices. Thirty patrons of a tavern were routed by the blaze.

A passerby noticed flames about 9 p.m. They were breaking through the roof when firemen arrived. More than 300 firemen fought the blaze and 1,000 people watched.

During 1958, Canada produced more than 70 per cent of the nickel output of the free world.

ARMY UNHAPPY WITH ALGIERS SOCIETY SET

By ANDREW BOROWIEZ

ALGIERS (AP)—They dance from 9 p.m. to 5 o'clock in the morning in swank villas along Algiers' beaches.

No one can come later or leave earlier because of curfew.

In the evening twilight, armored cars slowly patrol the road, some 20 miles from Algiers. A territorial sentry leans lazily against a sandbag gun emplacement.

American Tunes

On the oval floor of the giant, flower-decked living room, some 40 French couples whirl to the latest American tunes.

"You see, mama said we should never trust these people," said a pretty blonde. "Ever since the gardener stole papa's gun and joined the guerrillas we never hire Arab servants. We import them from Spain."

"Feel my gun," said a young lawyer. "I had this suit cut so no one could tell I carry it. I never leave the house without it. You can't trust the Arabs."

Different Outlook

On the terrace overlooking the Mediterranean glittering in the moonlight, a young lieutenant smokes his cigarette.

"Two years of this mess," he said. "I have wasted two years here. Don't ask me how the army feels. I don't represent the army. I hate it."

"It's all settled," an oil engineer

Gets Stork Notice Quickly At Pole

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—George A. Doumani, 10,000 miles away at the South Pole, got news of the birth of his first son almost quicker than if he'd been here at home.

Excitedly, his wife, Julie, 30, exclaimed into the telephone "Victor is here!"

Amateur Radio Operator W. Loyd Townsley had set up the radio-telephone call.

The Doumanis have a daughter, Sandra, 15 months.

said. He had just been to the new Sahara oilfields and beamed enthusiasm. "In two or three months the whole war will be over. We will negotiate with the rebels if necessary. We have to keep this country because of the oil. We will give the rebels some concessions but the oil must be ours."

Old Algeria

"You see here 'papa's' Algeria," said a psychological warfare officer pointing to the dance floor. "Daughters and sons of rich settlers. Handsome, well-dressed, carefree. They think the army's job here is to make sure that Algeria of tomorrow will be the same bed of roses for them and their kind."

A searchlight stabbed the darkness. The guiding lights of a nearby airbase glittered in even strings.

At 5 a.m., girls in party dresses and their young men began to leave. They formed small convoys of two to three cars for it still was dark.

Slowly, dawn began to break over Algeria.

FEAR YANKEES WERE TRAPPED BY TRUJILLOS

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Dominican Republic has been asked to explain why a U.S. Air Force transport was forced down and why the American ambassador was tricked into shaking hands with a secret agent of President Rafael Trujillo.

The State Department said Wednesday the Caribbean country has not replied to either complaint.

A third reported incident, the halting of an American freighter by firing a shot over its bow, is under investigation.

The department said the Air Force transport was forced to land at Ciudad Trujillo by a Dominican fighter plane, which fired a burst of machine gun bullets. The transport was en route from Puerto Rico to Cuba.

Plane Was Released

The plane was quickly allowed to take off and continue on its way.

The incident of the secret agent is more complicated. The State Department said it placed the ambassador "in a position which was subject to misinterpretation."

U.S. Ambassador Joseph F. Farland, an Eisenhower political appointee from Morgantown, W.Va., was called to the Dominican foreign office with other members of the diplomatic corps, the department said.

Present Diplomats

There the diplomats were introduced to Lt. Col. Juan de Dios Ventura Simo and they shook hands. Photographs were taken and widely published.

Anti-Trujillo forces throughout the Caribbean area protested at the American ambassador's seeming approval of Ventura Simo.

Ventura Simo was said to have recently defected from Trujillo's forces and flown to Puerto Rico. He returned to the Dominican Republic with rebel forces dedicated to overthrowing Trujillo, and was "captured." He later was promoted from major to lieutenant colonel.

PUC HEARING BUS PROPOSAL

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—An independent bus line operator says Eastern Greyhound Lines offered him legal aid to oppose Capitol Bus Company's application for a route from here to the New York State border.

The operator, Clarence L. Myers, of Huntsville, was called as a witness by Greyhound Wednesday at a Public Utility Commission hearing on Capitol's application.

Myers, who operates a route between here and Tunkhannock, in neighboring Wyoming County, said he has been negotiating to sell his line to Capitol, but has not received an offer from Greyhound.

His testimony came as a sidelight during a lengthy discussion of rates and services.

Greyhound, which has filed the only protest to Capitol's application, contends it supplies adequate service in the area. Capitol, with headquarters in Harrisburg, wants to carry passengers, baggage, mail and newspapers to South Waverly, Bradford County, just south of the border.

Purpose In Charter

T. C. Miller, Abbottstown, and J. P. Dalbey, Gettysburg, were named president and secretary, respectively, of the hospital staff. While workmen excavated the ground and built the walls of the new building, a charter was drawn up, and filed in the Adams County Court house April 26, 1919. It stated the purpose of the hospital as follows:

Support of a charitable and medical undertaking, namely, the maintenance of a public hospital in the borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, for relieving the wants of the afflicted, who may be suffering from accident and disease, without distinction to race, color, creed or condition."

On June 30, 1919, the cornerstone was laid. A crowd of 300 persons was present, and Mrs. Warner herself was there to conclude the simple ceremony by tapping the cornerstone three times with a silver trowel she received as a gift on her wedding day. Dr. Singmaster was the speaker, as president of the hospital board, and among others who spoke were the Rev. Fr. W. F. Boyle, pastor of St. Francis Xavier church, and William A. McClean, secretary of the hospital association.

While Mr. Warner gave the land and erected the building, much remained for the citizens of Adams County to do to furnish and implement the hospital, and insure sufficient funds for its proper maintenance. Accordingly, a drive was started October 15, 1919, called, at that time, "a drive for the greatest amount ever attempted in the county."

Drive For $100,000

The leaders in this praiseworthy undertaking set a high goal $100,000. On the first day, $11,000 was subscribed, but the records show that only something over $30,000 was actually obtained in this first financial campaign. Subsequently, the banks of the county took the lead in an endowment fund drive, which netted more than $40,000, and later individual cash gifts brought the total to more than $80,000.

The hospital was taken over by the executive committee of the Adams County Hospital Association on February 11, 1920. It included six acres of land, and land and building were valued at $20,000. The equipment and furnishings were valued at another $20,000. Mr. Warner turned the deed for the hospital and its original six acres over to the executive committee on that date.

Auxiliary Formed

On June 11, 1920, a hospital auxiliary was formed. Mrs. C. B. Stover was elected president of its executive committee; Mrs. Donald P. McPherson, first vice president; Mrs. H. T. Weaver, second vice president; Miss Nina Storrick, secretary, and Miss Margaret McMillan, treasurer. Other members of the executive committee were Mrs. W. A. McClean, Mrs. William Hersh and Mrs. Harry Cunningham.

On September 24, 1920, the hospital's board of directors held its first meeting in the new building after a tour of inspection of the structure which they felt "will be ready to receive patients within a short time." Plans were made to open it for public inspection on October 21, Farmers Day. But there was a need for more funds and there was talk of a "concerted drive" for funds for endowment and maintenance purposes.

The auxiliary of the hospital put on an intensive drive for canned foods and other food-stuffs for the hospital that fall, the first in a series of drives that became an annual institution. That first appeal was headed by Mrs. William Arch McClean as chairman. She had committees at work in every community in the county. The response brought truckloads of food to the hospital as countians came through generously.

Farmers' Day Feature

More than 4,000 persons saw the hospital that Farmers' Day and had only praise for the fine new institution that seemed ready to open. Members of the auxiliary served as guides.

The next month the Adams County Bankers Association, at the suggestion of Attorney John D. Keith, launched a campaign to raise $100,000 as an endowment fund for the hospital. Charles W. Gardner, then of the former Lincoln Trust Company, was chairman of the drive committee.

"Be the first to help your hospital, you may be the first to need its help," was the slogan for the campaign in which the hospital board of directors joined with the bankers.

By mid-December the drive had brought in $50,000 and the hospital board determined to open the hospital as soon as a staff of nurses could be obtained. The equipment had been installed and physically the building was ready.

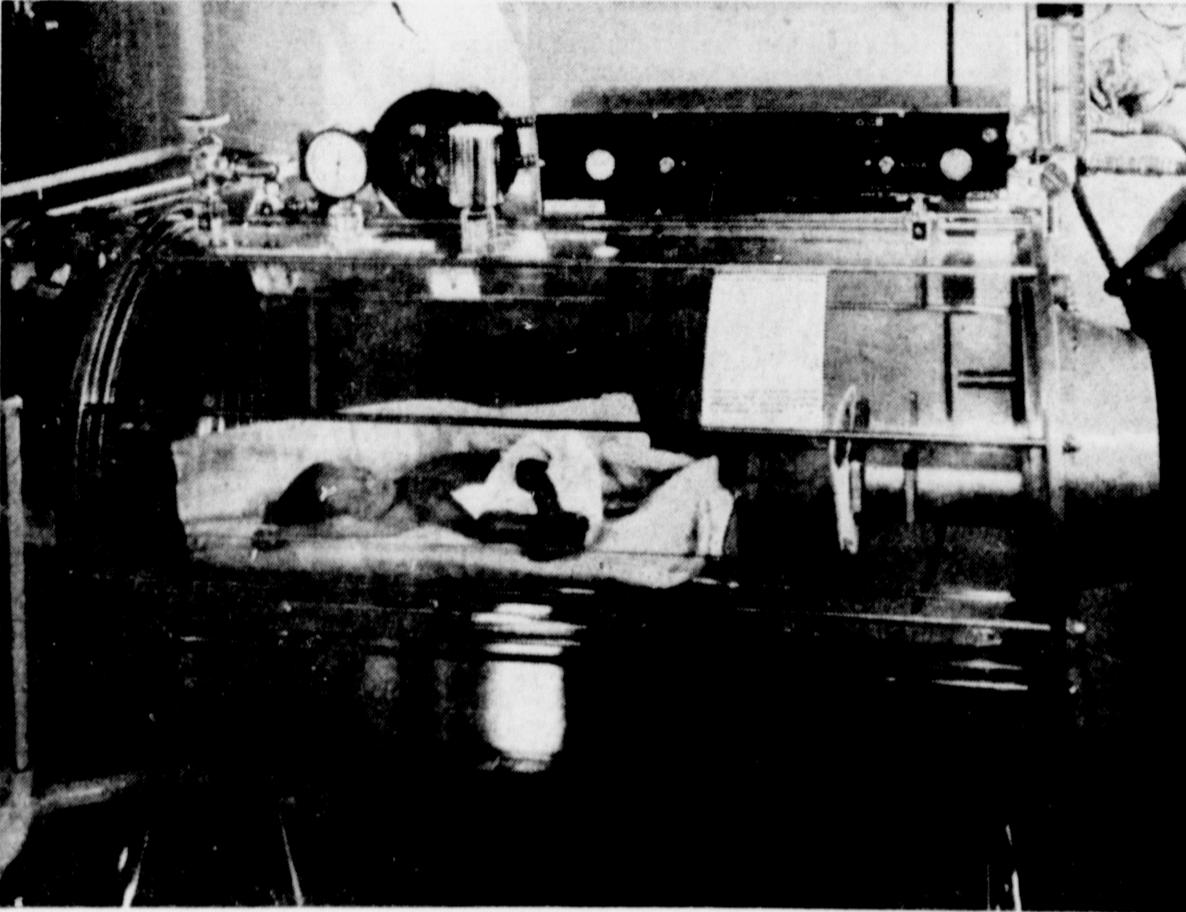

Treasury Empty

In January, 1921, a news story in The Gettysburg Times reported that, during the month of January, 18 Gettysburg and Adams County folk had to be taken to hospitals in nearby cities, including points as far distant as Philadelphia, because there was no hospital here. There was an appeal from the hospital board for $5,000 to give the new hospital operating funds with the opening then seeming to be imminent.

In mid-February of 1921, the first president of the hospital, Dr. J. A. Singmaster, submitted a "history" of the hospital to the public through the newspaper. In

Mrs. Annie M. Warner, after whom the hospital is named, is shown turning over the first shovelful of ground at the groundbreaking services on March 25, 1919. John Warner, her husband, who contributed both the land and the money for the original structure, stands by. Warner was impelled to begin construction of the hospital after the tragedy of the influenza epidemic of 1918 showed the alarming need for a proper medical shelter in the Adams County area.

The picture shows an infant in the air lock chamber which affords mechanical artificial respiration to aid new born babies, especially prematures. The chamber is on a constant standby basis to meet emergencies. It is in the delivery room.

He referred to the heavy task of the board and said: "The task laid upon us is one of holy service to our fellow men. Let us not falter in the performance of our duty."

He noted that the hospital was ready to open but the treasury is empty and pointed to the emergency drive for $5,000. "The good will and hearty cooperation of the people of Adams County are our chief assets," he said.

$40 A Day Overhead

He estimated the cost of maintaining the hospital after its opening at $40 a day with an average of 13 patients and said the expected annual cost of operation for the hospital would be about $15,000. He said the board expected that fees from patients would cover about 40 per cent of that figure.

By the end of February the employment of the first head nurse, Miss Carrie E. Stout, a graduate nurse with seven years of experience in Scranton and in Adams County would be in need of hospital care each year. The smallest number admitted in any of the first three years was 540. Since these years, the demands upon hospital facilities here have been constantly increasing, and the erection of the Christian H. Musselman annex, completed in 1947, fulfilled almost as great a need as the necessity for the original building.

When the Christian H. Musselman Annex was opened in June of 1947, just 12 years ago, hospital officials declared the annex "gives to Gettysburg and Adams County one of the finest hospitals in the United States, from the standpoint of equipment and service. Others may surpass it in size but few have any better facilities and equipment."

Musselman Memorial

The new building was a gift from the C. H. Musselman Foundation as a memorial to the late Christian H. Musselman, prominent Biglerville resident and benefactor and until his death in January, 1947, president of the C. H. Musselman Company, largest processors of apple products in the world.

Plans for the Musselman annex were approved and the contract let at a meeting of the members of the Musselman Foundation, members of the hospital's board of directors and the architect, Mr. McClean served as an officer and director of the hospital for many years.

The construction of the annex was begun in December, 1945, and it was completed early in 1947 when interior decorating was begun along with the installation of equipment. The basement of the annex housed the most of the laboratories, electrocardiographic equipment and that for basal metabolism. A board of director's and staff room also was provided in the basement of that annex.

Seven private and two semi-private rooms opened off a spacious lobby in the new annex's first floor. The private rooms enough to accommodate two beds. There were also the necessary service rooms, a "quiet" room for seriously ill patients, a nurses' room and a solarium. On the second floor were a nursery, an isolation nursery, delivery room, labor room, a solarium and two six-bed wards. Glass brick, recessed lighting and soundproofing were extra features of the fine Musselman annex.

The first births in the new maternity suite in the new annex occurred on May 1, 1947. They were a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Uhlig, Orrtanna R. 1, and a baby to Mr. and Mrs. William L. Eckert, Taneytown R. 2.

The new nursery in the annex provided, among other appurtenances, two humidicrib used for premature infants. Temperature

William Arch McClean, Gettysburg attorney, with Dr. J. A. Singmaster, then president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, collaborated with John Warner in founding the hospital. Mr. McClean served as an officer and director of the hospital for many years.

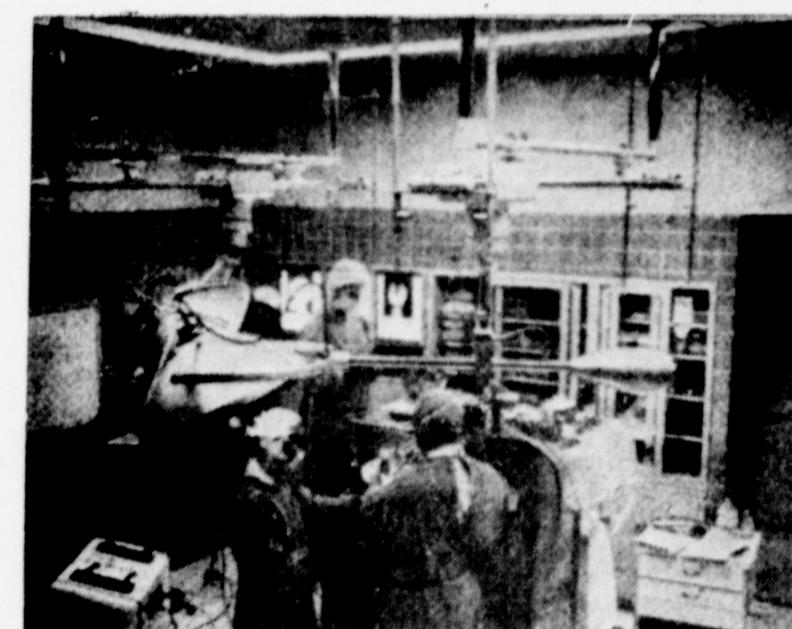

"No finer goal can man dedicate himself to than the healing, the sustenance, the comfort of the ill."

We are proud to join our fellow citizens of Adams County in honoring those dedicated men and women who have given so unselfishly of their time, their efforts, their resources to make the dream of a greater Annie M. Warner Hospital come true.

To us, the doctor's stethoscope is a reminder of the vital services hospitals perform each day.

Here in Adams County we are fortunate in having a fine hospital modern in every way... and now... thanks to recent remodeling and enlargement—better equipped than ever before to serve the needs of our county and nearby communities.

As another institution importantly serving this community, we congratulate everyone associated with the Annie M. Warner Hospital—and at the same time we express appreciation to the many community-minded persons whose contributions and efforts made these improvements possible.

Many Notable Donations

Through the years since the hospital was first opened, many persons have contributed much valuable equipment. One of the first was the late Dr. J. McCrea Dickson, former head of the board of directors, who gave 220 pieces of surgical equipment, valued at more than $10,000.

The Gettysburg Lodge of Elks donated $10,000 for a new deep therapy X-ray department, as a memorial to Elks of Adams County who served in World War II. Numerous others have donated books, equipment and supplies and the auxiliary has held annual food donation drives for the hospital to which countians have given generously.

The hospital is a member of the Capital Hospital Service, Inc., a branch of the Blue Cross, and a member of the American Hospital Association and the Hospital Association of Pennsylvania. For many years it has been fully approved by the American College of Surgeons.

Served In World War II

During World War II years, seven classes of nurses' aides were trained at the hospital. One class was trained by Miss Alice Ford; Mrs. Florence Sachs gave the training to another class, and Mrs. Sydney J. Poppy was the teacher of five classes.

The board of directors has had a number of presidents; the late Dr. Singmaster being the first. He was succeeded by S. G. Bigham, Biglerville, who served for five years. Dorsey Dougherty was president of the board for 15 years and Dr. E. H. Markley held the position then until 1944, when C. A. Bixler, New Oxford, became president. Others with shorter terms have followed.

At the death of Mrs. Warner, the hospital received an additional $1,000 in her will.

The four-year-old Warner Hospital was visited by Governor Gifford Pinchot in 1925, and at that time received high praise from the Commonwealth's chief executive. Governor John S. Fisher visited the hospital in 1927. In recent years, Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower visited there.

A special vault for the storage of x-ray films was added to the institution in 1929.

The First Medical Staff

When the hospital opened the medical doctors of the county were assigned in these positions for hospital responsibilities:

Chief surgeon, Dr. J. McCrea Dickson; associate surgeon, Dr. Henry Stewart; assistant surgeons, Dr. C. G. Crist and Dr. A. C. Rice of McSherrystown; anesthetists, Dr. William E. Wolff (father of Dr. Bruce N. Wolff, then of Arendtsville) and Dr. Edgar A. Miller, then of East Berlin and later of Gettysburg; pathologist, Dr. Henry Stewart; roentgenologist, Dr. J. P. Dalbey; obstetrician, Dr. H. M. Hartman, and eye, ear, nose and throat, Dr. George N. Seeks, then of New Oxford and later of Gettysburg.

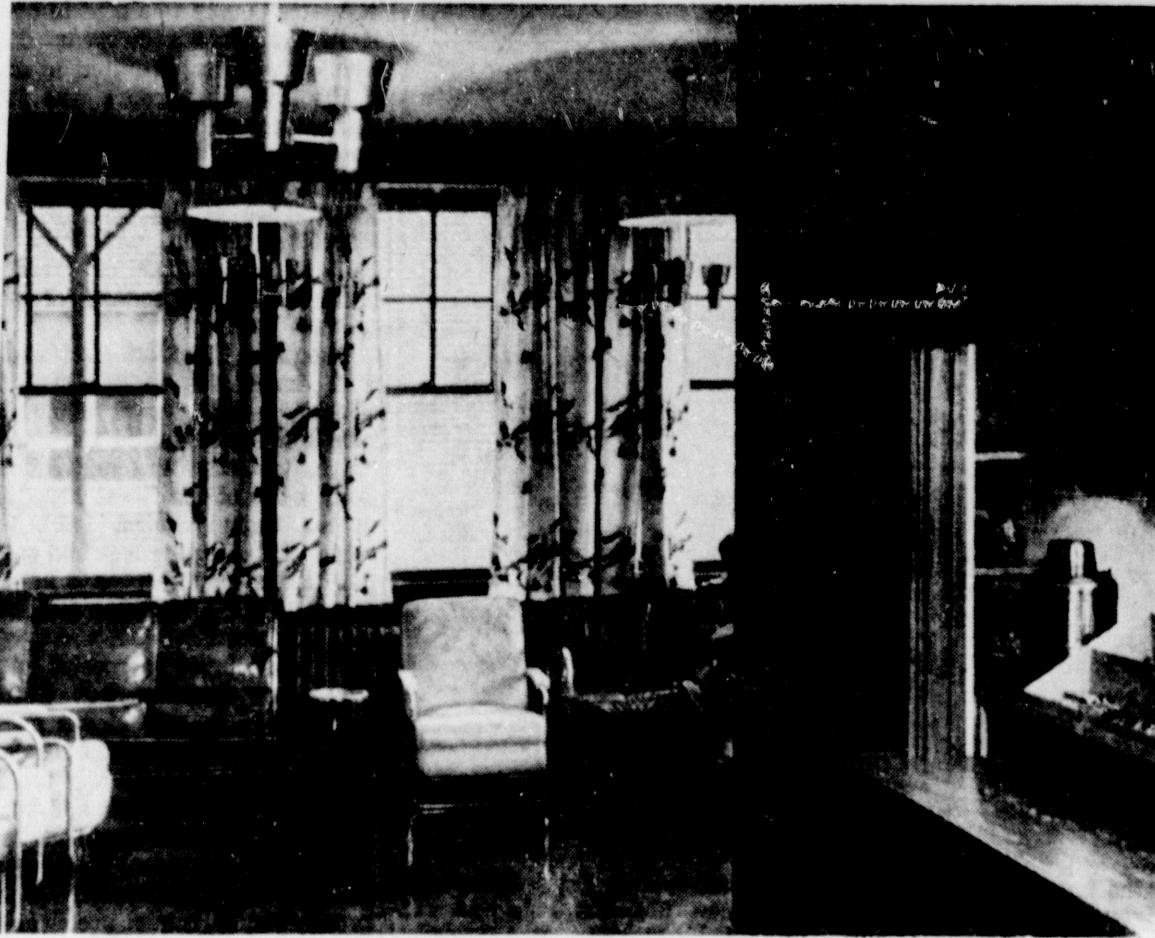

Time has brought many changes in those ranks and the only present member of the Warner Hospital staff whose name appeared on the initial list, and who has been an active member of the staff for all of the years of the hospital's life here, is Dr. C. G. Crist of Gettysburg.

Departments Developed

Dr. Dalbey served for several years as roentgenologist and then was succeeded by Dr. Edgar A. Miller who continued in that department until 1941 when he was called back to active duty in the Army. He was succeeded by Dr. J. L. Boyer, now chief of the x-ray service.

In the eye, ear, nose and throat division Dr. Seeks served until 1929 when he moved to Harrisburg and was succeeded here by Dr. W. S. Mountain who came to Gettysburg that year from New Oxford.

During the early days of the hospital a majority of the surgical cases were handled by Dr. Dickson with the assistance of his associates listed in the original staff. Later the surgical staff was joined by Dr. William J. Barnes who had located in Gettysburg after a number of years in China as a medical missionary. The surgical staff also was augmented for a time by Dr. Edmund

W. Meisenhelder of York.

Doctors And Nurses

Later Dr. Stewart gave his entire attention to pathological work at the hospital and he was followed on the surgical staff by Drs. Maurice Weaver and Dr. Mountain for comparatively short periods. They in turn were succeeded by Dr. Bruce N. Wolff in 1933, who became chief surgeon at Dr. Dickson's death with Dr. Roy W. Gifford as associate surgeon. Recently they were joined by Dr. Gerald Doo.

Dr. Henry Stewart served 18 years as pathologist for the hospital and the laboratory of the institution was one of the deciding factors that helped win its approval by the American College of Surgeons for the first time.

It has regularly been approved since. Dr. Stewart was succeeded by Dr. C. Harold Johnson, the incumbent, and the laboratory staff has been considerably expanded.

5 Nurses At First

The nursing staff in the beginning of the hospital was composed of five nurses — a day and a night nurse on each floor and an operating room nurse who also assisted at deliveries. They were quartered in four rooms in the west end of the "wing" with what later became an x-ray room serving as their living room. The superintendent of the hospital had a small room that later was used to house a generator.

When the Musselman Annex opened in 1947 the nursing staff ranged from 18 to 25 general duty nurses and several groups of nurses' aids who functioned as assistants to the regular nursing staff while private duty nurses often cared for special patients as they do today.

Now the hospital has a staff of 115 employees and private duty nurses and nurses aids continue to help the regular staff.

Miss McKay Served 14 Years

The first superintendent of the hospital was Miss Carrie Stout followed by a Miss Thomas who came here from Camden, N. J. The tenure of neither was of long duration and they were succeeded by Miss Martha McKay. During her administration the hospital was operated "in the black" and hospital officials of that day said it was one of the few in this area to do so operate. Miss McKay headed the nursing staff and the business management of the hospital for 14 years, resigning in November, 1936.

After a quarter century of having the superintendent of the hospital as a registered nurse, the responsibilities were separated and the board employed a superintendent and later a director of nursing for that part of the administration of the hospital and employed a business manager or administrator to handle the general management of the hospital.

Miss McKay, who was a native of Scotland and had supervisory experience in Logan County, W. Va., and in Philadelphia before coming here, was succeeded by Miss Sarah Clark, now of New Oxford, as superintendent and by Miss Elizabeth Martin as superintendent of nurses. Miss McKay died in November, 1953.

Doud, Then Dillon

The first administrator was Walter R. Doud. He was succeeded in 1953 by the present administrator, Walter R. Dillon, under whose administration the hospital has added its North and South wings, x-ray unit and the heating plant building.

In the records room at the hospital is a master file of all admission cards from the day the hospital opened in 1921, and a file of case histories, most of them on microfilm. These records are available to authorized persons but not to the general public.

Some years ago a dictograph was installed for the convenience of physicians in dictating case histories. For many years Dr. Henry Stewart headed the records committee of the hospital staff.

Company was awarded the contract and this weekend's "open house" and dedication are the climax to that effort.

The hospital that started modestly in the original establishment saw 20 trips from the stock in the first year. Now there are more than 1,000 per year.

While the average length of patients' period of care in the hospital has steadily declined, the total number of admissions has rocketed. In the first year there were 436 patients. Last year there were 4,481.

In 1940 the average patient stayed in the hospital 8.9 days. In 1957 the average was 6.5 days. In 1941, the hospital provided 10,670 patient days of care. In 1958, that total was 30,700.

Expenses Increased Too

While services and numbers of patients have mounted through the years at the hospital, so have operating expenses. Hospital records show that the average cost of keeping one patient in one room for one day has tripled in the last two decades. In 1939 the figure was $5.61 and currently it is $18.25.

Part of the cost picture is the result of the same inflation that has hit other walks of life and other business operations but the hospital faces the constant need to maintain a staff and facilities capable of handling a capacity load whether the hospital is at capacity at the moment or not.

Hospital Administrator Walter B. Dillon said supplies and equipment kept on a standby basis at the hospital have a value of $25,185 — ready to use at a moment's notice if and when the need arises.

Figures Show Growth

The way the hospital has grown in the last five years into a half million dollar a year enterprise is shown by these figures on total costs for the last few years: 1953-54, $300,528; 1954-55, $338,739; 1955-56, $342,235; 1956-57, $423,520, and 1957-58, $550,740.

Of that total operating cost of $550,740, $328,062 goes for payroll. Food costs $35,170; miscellaneous kitchen items, $3,511; drugs, $14,461; utilities breaking down this way: gas, $5,553; electricity, $5,752; water and sewer rental, $1,941 and fuel oil, $966; insurance, $9,888 including $6,152 for social security payments, and free services, $26,372.

The great amount of free service rendered by the hospital each year is pointed up by the statement of Administrator Dillon that if all bills had been paid last year the hospital would have been "in the black" by $19,000. As it was the hospital ended the year with an operation deficit of $9,489.

New Peak In Hospital History

The difference was made up in some measure by donations. Ground for the new South Wing was broken in June of last year and now a new peak is reached this weekend in hospital history.

The 36-year-old Annie M. Warner Hospital with a plant and equipment worth nearly a million and a quarter dollars, with facilities for taking care of 96 patients and 20 infants and with a staff of 115 looks forward to a new era of service to the people of Adams County and to the hundreds of thousands of visitors the community greets each year.

Its leaders may go forward again with the same confidence its founders had in the generosity and the sound judgment of the people of this community.

Statistics Rocketing

The Gettysburg Construction

Erected from cash and pledges in the building campaign that had been launched the year before, the new wing was erected as the first step in the long range building program that had been launched by the board of directors. The first patients moved into the new wing on August 13.

Made Pledge In 1956

The completely modern wing added eight four-bed units which replaced the former 16-bed wards, one of which was used for men and the other for women. While the new structure did not greatly increase patient capacity, it did greatly facilitate the handling of greater numbers of patients. Attractively decorated the new wing was equipped with the new "hi-lo" beds.

The new wing was formally dedicated to the memory of the 24 original directors of the hospital at the formal dedicatory rites the afternoon of August 12 when Henry M. Scharf, chairman of the finance committee of the hospital's board of directors, cut the ribbon that opened the new wing. That afternoon hospital officials made public pledges that the next wing would be "completed within the next few years."

That pledge is being made good this weekend.

Next Step Followed Swiftly

The late Edmund W. Thomas, then president of the First National Bank and a vice president of the hospital's board of directors, presided at the dedication.

Need For Expansion

In 1921, the hospital's first year, there were 28 births. In 1957 there were 1,065. In the first year the hospital admitted 436 patients. Last year (1958) the total was 4,481.

With a pressing need for expansion to eliminate badly overcrowded conditions and the "totally inadequate" conditions in the wards, the hospital's next major building program was launched in 1955.

Fund appeals came first and then on October 10, 1955, a ground breaking ceremony was held for the North Wing.

A large audience looked on while ground was broken for the first of the two wings needed at the hospital.

Founders Praised

A silver server used by Mrs. Warner at the laying of the cornerstone for the original hospital building and donated to the late William Arch McLean was used by John A. Hauser, former president of the hospital and then chairman of the building committee, in the ground breaking ceremony.

The Rev. Edwerth Korte, then president of the Gettysburg Minitum, offered prayer and the principal speaker was Richard Livingston, New Oxford shoe manufacturer, then president of the hospital board.

Referring to the founders and early leaders of the hospital, Mr. Livingston said: "To them, who are too numerous to mention, we by this ceremony acknowledge our great debt, not alone for the structures they built and the services they directed, but also for the inspiring ideals of community service they left us. These we accept as a trust and address ourselves with humility to the task of continuing the work they so well started."

Money From People

Immediately following the ground breaking ceremony the steam shovel of the contractor began excavation and work was begun with the pressure on to provide more space for over-crowded and inadequate facilities in the hospital of that day. The North Wing which the next year housed 32 patients cost about $250,000. That money came from the people of Adams County.

The hospital opened its new North Wing to the public for inspection on August 11 and 12, 1956, with dedication ceremonies preceding the "open house" on the latter date, a Sunday afternoon.

It was completed in December of 1956 and went into use at once without fanfare.

Dr. C. G. Crist Was Original Staff Member

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, is the only member of the Annie M. Warner medical staff who has been continuously a member of the staff since it was formed with the opening of the hospital in 1921.

A native of Hummelstown, Dr. Crist completed his pre-medical work at Gettysburg College and received his M.D. in 1910 from the Pennsylvania Medical College in Philadelphia. He opened his office for the practice of medicine in Gettysburg in 1913. He was for many years medical director of both Gettysburg College and the Theological Seminary. He has served also as chief of the State Tuberculosis clinic and physician to the county jail and almshouse and was for twenty months surgeon to the prisoner of war camp in Gettysburg during World War II.

He is a fellow of the American Medical Association, the American College of Chest Physicians and a member of the Adams County and Pennsylvania medical societies. He is a past president of the Warner Hospital staff.

He has been active in community affairs serving 12 years on the Gettysburg School Board, including five as president. He is a member of the Masons, the Eagles, Elks, Moose, Sons of Veterans, and the York County Shrine Club.

NORTH WING SPONSORS

Sponsors of North Wing rooms at Warner Hospital are John S. Teeter and Sons, Mr. and Mrs. Philip M. Jones, McDermitt Brothers, Woman's Club of Gettysburg, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Max Cease, In Memory of Gertrude, Zi Alpha Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority of Gettysburg; The Citizens Oil Company, In Memory of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Codori and Family.

HOUSEKEEPING EMPLOYEES

Housekeeping employees of the Warner Hospital are Mrs. Olga Arndt, Mrs. Anna Bartkiew, Augusta Arndt, William R. Breckenridge, Robert J. Short and George L. Mitchell, all of Gettysburg; William Cooley, Biglerville, and Mrs. Elsie Machacek, Fairfield.

Early the next year (1957) a thorough review of hospital operating facilities, patient accommodations and facilities was undertaken by the board of directors.

The result of that survey was a decision that construction of the proposed South Wing could not be longer delayed. The additional space for patients was a necessity as were quarters for a new dietary department. A new boiler plant to heat the entire hospital establishment was included in the plans. Architects and engineers started on plans and the board set about raising the funds.

The hospital got a grant of $41,000 from the Ford Foundation and this was used for the X

South Wing Addition Brings Dramatic Changes To Warner Hospital

New Wing Has Many Features Long Desired By Members Of Hospital's Medical Staff

With the opening of the new $465,000 South Wing, the Annie M. Warner Hospital will raise its patient facilities to 99 beds and 20 bassinets. But the increased patient accommodations hardly begin to tell the story of the dramatic changes resulting from the progressive building campaign that has made Warner Hospital one of the most modern, efficient, imaginatively planned hospitals of its size anywhere. Hospital authorities have had their eye on the future as well as the present.

Highlighting the new construction are extremely desirable features long envisioned by the hospital staff such as a pediatric section, isolation rooms, quiet rooms, psychiatric facilities, and up-to-the-minute dietary and utility facilities.

12 Rooms On East Side

The east side of the new wing contains 12 rooms, designed for two beds and containing cubicle separator curtains. All rooms have private lavatories equipped with emergency buttons which cause flashing lights and chimes at the nurses' station for immediate attention. There are also new audio-visual call systems in each bed area by which nurse and patient can communicate to insure more efficient service.

Rooms are individually decorated, no two being alike in color scheme. Color harmony has been maintained throughout the furniture and decorations with such items as tile, draperies, wall paint, upholstery, bedspreads, etc., carefully blended. Each room contains two clothes closets and a general linen storage closet. There are facilities for telephone and TV as the patient desires, a general room light and a twin fixture for each bed offering both direct and indirect illumination.

Basic facilities for a piped oxygen system have been installed but will not be completed as a part of the present construction. Similarly there are facilities for the future addition of air conditioning units.

Pediatric Area

At the head of the west side of the new South Wing is a three room pediatric area containing one three-bed pediatric unit, a play room and a pediatric private room. The units are connected by a work room to the rear of the play room. Jalousie type windows in the work room give nurses visual and audio control of patients in the playroom.

The west side also contains two quiet rooms for patients in extremely critical condition and a psychiatric room, specially equipped for the overnight care of violent patients before their removal to a state hospital. The psychiatric room has heavy gauge detention screens and a sliding door with outside switches only.

There are also a patient shower and tub room and a U-shaped utility room in which contaminated items will enter one side, move through the sterilizer and come out clean at the other side. Two isolation rooms enable better care of patients with communicable diseases with greater safety for general patients and personnel. The isolation rooms have a connecting scrub area.

Treatment Room

One notable feature of the new wing is the treatment room where patients can be properly handled without the necessity of time-consuming movement. The west side also contains a stretcher alcove and a flower sink assembly available both to hospital personnel and visitors.

This side also contains an adult patient room similar to others across the corridor and one special room somewhat larger than the others with special furniture including a bed which can be operated by the patient. If need be the quarters can be shut off from the remainder of the wing.

The wing closes with a large bright solarium.

All beds in the wing are electrically operated except those in the pediatric area. Beds can be changed from home to hospital height as the occasion demands.

34-Patient Capacity

Maximum capacity of the new facilities is 34 patients, but hospital authorities expect to use some of the new double rooms as private rooms when the patient burden permits. Total bed space has not grown, however, by similar figures since the transfer of the pediatric section and the closing of some of the inadequate private rooms in the old building cut patient space there. However, flexible planning makes it possible to convert such areas as the pediatric private room and the psychiatric room into adult patient rooms should the need arise.

The original hospital building now houses only six patients and those are maternity cases.

The dietary department of the hospital is now contained on the ground floor of the new wing. A service corridor runs along the west wall with all facilities to the east. At the far end of the floor are locker and shower rooms for men and women employees on either side of the corridor. There is a huge room for bulk food storage.

Modern Kitchen

The new kitchen is completely equipped in stainless steel. It has structural glazed tile walls, quarry tile floors and a metal acoustical ceiling. The east side has been terraced on the outside to offer daylight facilities and more attractive working conditions. Three huge walk-in refrigerators have been installed with provisions in the rear of the refrigerators for deep freeze. Equipment has been installed to insure functional freedom and efficiency of movement with patients' trays.

To the front of the kitchen is a cafeteria for the employees and staff of the hospital. The dining area can be closed off with a plastic cubicle curtain for staff luncheons.

Eighteen employees will handle the new dietary department. The new wing is 172 feet long and 49 feet wide.

This side also contains an adult

All but three members of the board of directors of Annie M. Warner Hospital are shown above. The members shown are, front row, left to right: Walter B. Dillon, Gettysburg; Wilbur A. Bankert, Littlestown; Philip M. Jones, Gettysburg; Leo McDermitt, Gettysburg; Richard A. Brown, Gettysburg; Franklin R. Bigham, Gettysburg; Henry M. Scharf, Gettysburg; Philip M. Dunn, Gettysburg.

Carpenter, Taneytown; Joseph E. Codori, Gettysburg; Philip M. Dunn, Gettysburg; John Hauser, Biglerville; Edward C. McDowell, Biglerville; A. S. Stauffer, Biglerville; Charles E. Ritter, Littlestown; Dr. Frank H. Kramer, Gettysburg; John D. Teeter, Gettysburg.

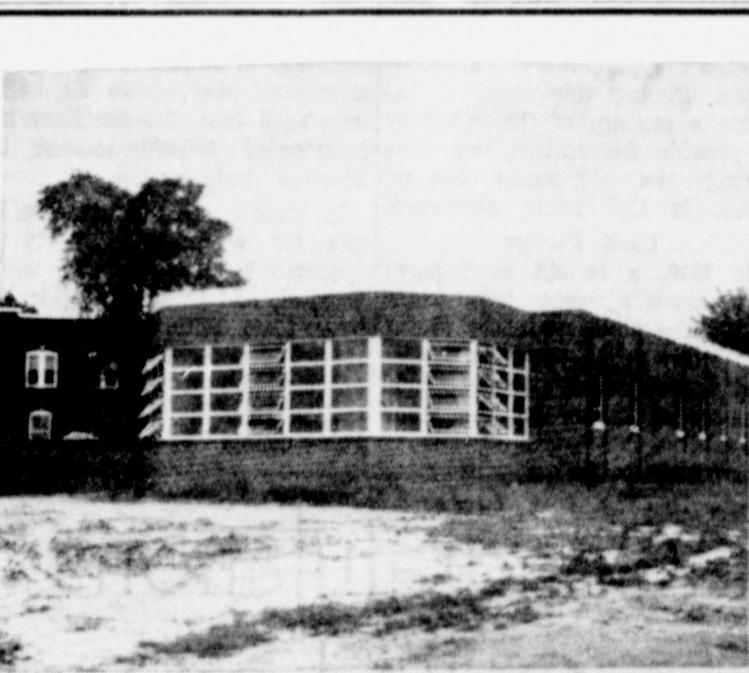

Those not present when the picture was taken are Clark Smith, Gettysburg; George Wilhite, Emmitsburg, Md.; Richard W. Livingston, New Oxford.

Dr. C. Harold Johnson, Warner Hospital staff pathologist, does a microscopic examination of tissue removed during surgery. Such pathology examinations are routine with sections of all tissue removed during an operation to confirm the diagnosis and make certain there are no other diseases which have gone unrecognized. A tissue committee of the medical staff also examines and compares pathological findings with operative diagnosis. This procedure is required by the joint accreditation committee on hospitals to demonstrate that the surgery done is necessary and justified. The pathology laboratory is in the basement of the main building.

Above is a partial view of one of the four-patient rooms in the north wing showing the cubicle curtains which afford privacy, the electric hi-low beds, here at home height, the wash room and other fixtures. There are eight such rooms in the north wing.

The new North Wing of the Annie M. Warner Hospital is an example of fine community interest.

With humility we are proud to be able to serve toward its building.

Warner Board Represents 9 Nearby Areas

The 26-man Board of Directors represents most of the areas served by the Annie M. Warner Hospital. Nine areas are represented on the board including 13 from Gettysburg, three from Biglerville, two each from Littlestown and New Oxford and one each from Bendersville, Taneytown, Emmitsburg, and York Springs.

From the foundation of the hospital the board has played a vital role in maintenance of proper facilities, the various building projects, and the growth and progress of the hospital services.

Officers of the board are: president, Richard A. Brown; first vice president, Leo McDermitt; second vice president, Franklin R. Bigham; secretary, Henry M. Scharf; treasurer, Philip M. Jones, and administrator, Walter B. Dillon, all of Gettysburg.

Members of the board are: Wilbur A. Bankert, Littlestown; Carl A. Baum, Gettysburg; Robert E. Berkheimer, Gettysburg; Floyd Brown, Fairfield; John S. Brown, Gettysburg; A. H. Companies Named For Construction

Construction of the more recent improvements at Annie M. Warner Hospital are as follows:

South Wing addition, Cochran, Stephens and Wing, architects and engineers; Gettysburg Construction Company, general construction.

North Wing addition, Buchart Engineering Co., Inc., architects and engineers; O. H. Hostetter Associates, general construction.

X-ray building addition, Buchart Engineering Co., architects and engineers; Hill and Ivens, general construction.

Warner Hospital Auxiliary Has Made Mammoth Contribution Since Beginning

"The Woman's Auxiliary is our hospital's greatest asset," said Wilbert Bankert when retiring from the presidency of the hospital board. "It is impossible for anyone to evaluate the service of this inspired and dedicated organization of hundreds of women from all parts of our hospital area. Their contributions and their services to the hospital in any one year are nothing short of magnificent."

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Annie M. Warner Hospital actually pre-dates the hospital. On June 11, 1920, nine months before the first patient was admitted, a group of civic-minded women met and organized the auxiliary, and at that time adopted the objective which has been retained throughout its 39-year history, "The object of the auxiliary shall be to assist the board of directors in the maintenance of the hospital."

The first executive committee included Mrs. C. B. Stover, president; Mrs. Donald P. McPherson, first vice president; Mrs. H. T. Weaver, second vice president; Miss Nina Storick, secretary; Miss Margaret McMillan, treasurer; other members of the board were Mrs. W. A. McClean, Mrs. William Hersh and Mrs. Harry Cunningham. The president of the hospital, the late Dr. John A. Singmaster, met with the women and assisted in this organization session.

No County Auxiliary

During the early years, there was no county auxiliary as such; the various communities had branches operated independently with their own sets of officers. Mrs. Stover was the first president of the Gettysburg branch; other Gettysburg presidents included Mrs. M. E. Zinn and Mrs. Austin Fellenbaum.

One of the first projects undertaken by the newly-formed group was the roadway leading to the hospital which was installed at a cost of $1,200; most of the money for this was raised through the sale of miniature aprons.

The first general reorganization meeting was held on November 7, 1924. The late S. G. Bigham called a meeting of the members, and spoke of the need for a strong central organization. Records are missing for the intervening years, but it is presumed home.

Lack of complete records indicates another period of inactivity from 1925 to 1931, although correspondence and newspaper items indicate there was some active work done until 1929.

In 1931, the second reorganization meeting was held at the Strand Theater, with seventy-five county women showing great interest in reviving the work of the auxiliary. At this meeting, Miss Mary Ramer (now Mrs. George F. Eberhart) was elected president, an office which she held for nine years; other presidents of the auxiliary include Mrs. Leroy H. Winebrenner, Mrs. Raymond F. Sheely, Mrs. Roy W. Gifford, Mrs. David Blocher, Mrs. Frank H. Kramer, Mrs. Edmund W. Thomas, Mrs. John D. Teeter, and Mrs. Clark S. Smith, presently serving her second term of office.

Collect Foodstuffs

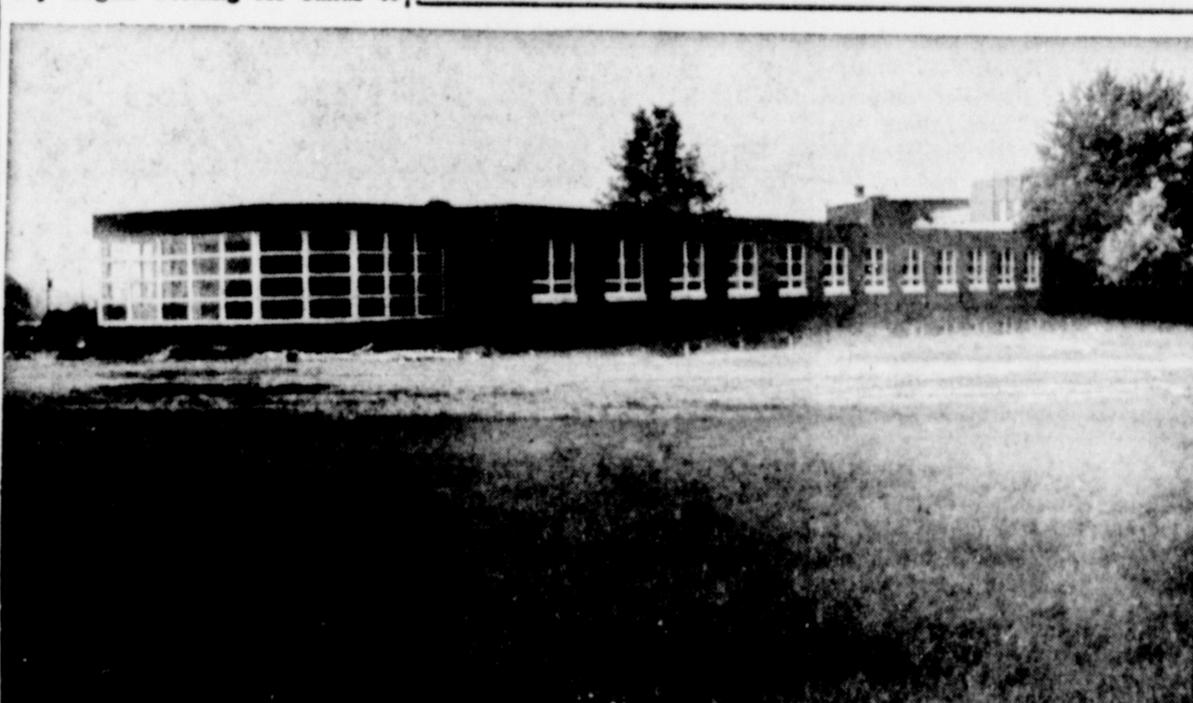

One of the outstanding projects of the auxiliary from its earliest records until 1948 was the collection throughout the county of canned and fresh foodstuffs and money contributions to supply food for the hospital; thousands of jars of food and jellies were collected in this way. In 1941, a nine-year summary showed that an estimated $8,000 had been given in this way.

From 1931 to 1942, the Sewing Committee which was one of the original committees formed in the auxiliary was "on call" to do any sewing or mending needed for the hospital. Most of the members of this committee devoted one day a week to this work. For several years, this committee was in charge of Mrs. C. B. Stover, and from the very earliest records, Mrs. Anna Mishler received special mention for the amount of work she did in this capacity. After 1942, Mrs. Mishler worked full time on the sewing, and the work of the committee because less demanding.

In February, 1932, the auxiliary began working for funds to enlarge the kitchen facilities, and several times since then has added new conveniences.

First Rummage Sale

The first rummage sale was held in July, 1932; this has become an annual benefit of the auxiliary, and since 1954 has been jointly sponsored by the auxiliary and the Gettysburg Rotary Club.

Since the reorganization in 1931, the records of the auxiliary show a steady and continuing growth in financial help to the hospital.

Some of the accomplishments listed in a nine-year summary in 1941 included the remodeling of the maternity ward at a cost of $1,100; the remodeling of the office; the purchase of hundreds of yards of linens, muslins, and toweling; inlaid linoleum in private rooms, offices and laboratories; the installation of Venetian blinds, and a contribution toward the purchase of an ambulance. During this time, it became a custom of the auxiliary to provide decorations and gifts during the Christmas season, which is still being continued.

Card Parties

In 1946, a benefit card party and operetta were held which netted the auxiliary about $2,300. For many years, the card parties and dances became the principal sources of money for the auxiliary.

In 1947, the auxiliary assumed the remodeling of the kitchen and the nurses' home, which was completed in 1949. In 1949 they financed the purchase of a bronchoscopic machine and installed fire-proof doors. During this same time, the diet kitchens were also completely renovated. In 1949, the board of directors of the hospital invited a representative of the auxiliary to sit at the board meetings; the auxiliary chose to send its president, and since that time the president has occupied a place at the meetings.

Walter Dillon Has Enviable Record At Warner Hospital

Walter B. Dillon, administrator of the Annie M. Warner Hospital for the past five and a half years, has directed the extensive improvements that have almost changed the character of the hospital during that period.

Only the second professional administrator in the hospital's history, Dillon succeeded Walter Doud. He was elected to his post Dec. 4, 1953, at the age of 31 and assumed his duties on Dec. 19, 1953.

A native of Newark, N. J., Dillon is a veteran of World War II and a graduate of Bradwell Institute, Hinesville, Ga. Before coming to Gettysburg, he had extensive schooling in U.S. Public Health Service hospital administration, as well as excellent experience in the field.

Public Health Service

Prior to accepting the Warner post, Dillon had been material management officer of the U.S. Public Health Service hospital in Baltimore. He had begun his career with the Public Health Service in 1946 and had served in various capacities in different sections of the country.

His progressive administration has resulted in the construction of the North and South Wings, the x-ray annex, and the power plant. This construction has permitted improvements in medical service and treatment. Among the value additions are the new room, isolation and quiet rooms, the pediatric facilities, the new dispensary, laboratory improvements, changes in the waiting room and front office, office facilities for the surgeons on the premises, and the new dietary department.

While pleased with the steady growth of facilities and the resulting development of better medical care for area residents, Dillon continues to plan for the future. The new South Wing, for example, contains facilities for the addition of piped oxygen in all the rooms.

Contemplates New Surgery

Dillon is hopeful also that soon he can turn his energy to the construction of new surgical and operating facilities which he feels are badly needed to round out the changes that have taken place. In many respects the surgical facilities are the heart of the hospital, and while there have been some forward steps in the past few years, patient load demands a reappraisal of the present setup.

For an obvious reason, the fact that surgery facilities must be maintained continuously, Dillon and the Warner Board have delayed handling this problem un-

Dr. W. R. Cadle Heads Warner Medical Staff

The fifteen members of the administrative personnel of Warner Hospital are Walter B. Dillon, Gettysburg, administrator; Mrs. Miriam W. Jones, Gettysburg, office manager; Mrs. Beverly Starner, Gardners, medical records librarian; Mrs. Shirley C. Todd, Gettysburg, secretary to the administrator; Miss Angela Clegg, Gettysburg, front office clerk; Mrs. Barbara Guise, Gettysburg, front office clerk; Mrs. Esther Hughes, Gettysburg, front office clerk, and Mrs. Arlene Kennell, Gettysburg, from office clerk.

Others are Mrs. Ethel O. Myers, Gettysburg, front office clerk; Miss Wynona Woodward, Gettysburg, subscription secretary; Luther M. Medical Services

The various departments of the medical staff are manned as follows: anesthesia service, W. R. Cadle, M.D., chief; John J. Knox, M.D., and Douwe L. Radisma, M.D.; eye, ear, nose and throat service, W. S. Mountain, M.D., chief; laboratory service, C. H. Johnson, M.D., chief; surgical service, Bruce N. Wolff, M.D., chief; Roy W. Gifford, M.D., and Gerald K. Doo, M.D.; x-ray service, John L. Boyer, M.D., chief, and Joseph W. Delozier, M.D.; obstetrical service, James

A portion of the nursery in the Musselman Annex is shown including some of the bassinets and one of the incubators. The nursery accommodates 20 babies. The first child born in the Warner Hospital was Philip Oyler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Oyler, Gettysburg.

RADIOLOGY TECHNICIANS

Generator Set Lights Plant Automatically

With the opening of the new South Wing of the Warner Hospital, the operation of the new boiler plant will also begin. The plant, housing two 131-horsepower boilers, is located north of the North Wing to the rear of the main building and x-ray department. It is connected with the North Wing by an enclosed corridor ramp.

The hospital uses only one of the boilers at a time, so that facilities are available for any future growth. Generally the boiler runs on gas for a five-week period and then is transferred to oil. The two boilers are used at alternate periods so that neither is shut down for long periods of time. Fuel tanks hold 8,000 gallons.

In the boiler room also is a new emergency 150kw automatic generator set which goes into action within two seconds of a power failure and meets the complete power requirements of the hospital.

The hospital authorities have been test running the generator every Wednesday for some time and have found the service completely satisfactory.

An incinerator is also contained in the boiler room with a steam water mixing unit for handling garbage cans, etc. A similar hookup in the kitchen permits service employees to clean tile walls and floor with a minimum time and effort.

PYREX BATTERY WORKS WONDERS

Warner Hospital has a new wrinkle that practically guarantees future patients hot meals, cold desserts, and what have you.

Beginning with the opening of the new South Wing all patients will be served their meals in plastic trays which feature a pyrex heat battery. The pyrex appliance is first heated, then placed in the tray recess. A heated dish receives the hot food and is covered with a plastic dome which will maintain temperature well past the time in which the food is delivered to the patient.

Coffee will be served also in an insulated beverage container and soup in an insulated bowl which maintains temperature for approximately 1½ hours.

Procedure can be reversed for refrigerated materials by chilling the pyrex battery.

BUILDING COSTS

In the past five and a half years Warner Hospital building costs have amounted to $800,000. The North Wing was opened in 1956 at a cost of $250,000; the x-ray wing in 1957 at a cost of $75,000 and the South Wing and boiler room at a cost of $475,000.
